A Word From Liberty

Have you ever felt you knew just what you needed to do to step into your destiny—but every step you took seemed to go nowhere? We've all been convinced at one time or another that God has told us where our destiny was going to take us. We were thrilled and we could hardly wait to tell others, declaring God to be sooooo good!

As we held fast to what we believed God had said, we eagerly watched for something, anything, God-like to happen. Our hearts would leap when something seemed to point toward what we were waiting for. But then nothing happened; disappointed and a bit embarrassed, we made excuses for why it hadn't:

"God couldn't do what He wanted because of those people who wouldn't get out of His way. God couldn't do what He wanted because our spiritual leaders don't care about anyone else's ministries. God said I would do such and such, but no one would give me a chance."

Important Point #1: God NEVER disappoints any hopes that are aligned with His plans and purposes for our lives.

Important Point #2: God ALWAYS opens doors and gives provision for HIS plans and purposes; when God opens doors, no man or woman can shut them!

Praying the binding and loosing prayers moves your desire to cooperate with Him out of the abstract and into action. Matthew 16:19 gives you the Keys to doing this.

Important Point #3: Others are not keeping you from your destiny.

When any of us are not walking in our destinies, it is generally because we are not cooperating with or we don't know how to cooperate with God's next steps. We think we want that more than anything, but our unsundered souls are hard at work to hide the reality that our hopes are really linked to what we want. They do this by putting filters in place that only allow what we want to hear to pass through them, messing with our understanding of what God is saying.

This doesn't necessarily mean that we are being rebellious; it often means we just do not recognize that we are filtering His words through:

1. what we have always wanted,
2. what we have heard happened for others,
3. what we have seen others be able to do,
4. what we have been taught we should be able to do,
5. what we have experienced our whole lives, and
6. what we hope will happen now.

While this may not be deliberate sin, we still get bogged down in soulish presumption and assumption. Our souls generally want (to some degree) whatever we do for God to bring us admiration, respect, and even fame and fortune with opportunities for more of the same. You may disagree with the list above, but read it again carefully. We want to believe and think we have surrendered everything to God to become humble and deserving. But God knows He is just beginning to get past our defenses and down to the level He has always wanted us to let Him reach within our souls.

Problems with your destiny? Read on. Since April 6th, with 52 (160 in phase 1) other Intercessors from around the world at this time, we pray Monday through Friday every morning:

- Mondays we pray for all nations' government, military, spiritual, and academic leaders. For those of us in America, this includes praying pure prayers for President Obama and his family and his cabinet and his policy makers. We do not pray our personal opinions; we pray for strength and encouragement for President Obama and for God's will to be done in all of his decisions.

- Tuesdays we pray for the peace and the safety of Jerusalem and all of Israel. We pray and declare Scripture over Israel, asking God to bring the truth and awareness of His love not only to the Jews, but to all nationalities in the Middle East. We pray about the Middle East conflicts. We do not pray our personal opinions because who will be saved and who won't in the end time harvest is totally up to God. Peter wrote (2 Peter 3:9, NKJV), "The Lord is not slack concerning His promise, as some count slackness, but is longsuffering toward us, not willing that any should perish but that all should come to repentance." We do not know who these all are, but we know there are believers and those who are going to believe in every nation in the world.
- Wednesdays we pray for the nations of the world and the people in them, asking God to bring healing and peace and the knowledge of Christ to them. We do not pray our personal opinions; we bind the wills of the people of all nationalities to the will of God and we loose cultural and religious bondage thinking from them while praying for grace and mercy and spiritual understanding for them.
- Thursdays we pray for the unsaved and the backslidden people around the world in all nations. We declare John 3:16 over them, among other Scriptures. We loose wrong beliefs and wrong ideas they have about Christians, the Church, and God from them. We do not pray our personal opinions over them.
- Fridays we all pray for each Intercessor's personal needs, declaring Psalm 138:8 over them that God is going to perfect/perform that which concerns them including their families, homes, finances, health, autos, and pets. At LSM we speak every Intercessor's name aloud as we are declaring this.

We loose word curses spoken against the Intercessors and over the leaders and the people of every nation. We loose wrong prayers prayed about or against the Intercessors and the leaders and the people of every nation, and we loose the works of the enemy from the Intercessors and the leaders and the people of every nation.

As always with God, the Great Multi-Tasker, other benefits were forming around each one of the Intercessors who are praying. Personally, my damaged heart was healed. Family members have been restored to several Intercessors as well as breakthroughs in finances and other wonderful healings. We believe that our prayers together with other dedicated intercessors' groups around the world have impacted many of the worldwide happening since April 6th!

Now it is confession time. If you were to ask me before this past Sunday afternoon if I had any prejudice against anyone, I would have told you absolutely not! I pray freely for Christians who are not walking in love towards others, for those in religions I do not agree with, for criminals of all levels of crimes (and for their victims), for those who have exhibited and perpetrated great cruelty (on others) that they would be healed of whatever had been done to them to cause them to become the way they are, for many that others do not want to pray for, and for all nationalities.

This is not a source of pride to me; rather it is a list that I feel almost desperate to pray for. I pray for people I see on the television news, I pray for people I read about in the newspaper, and I pray for all of the prayer requests that come in my e-mail. If one of my prayers can change some detail of someone else's life for the better, how can I not pray? It is hard for me to not take First Samuel 12:23 personally (Samuel speaking to the people of Israel), "Moreover, as for me, far be it from me that I should sin against the LORD in ceasing to pray for you" (NKJV).

Some people that I know of, including my Seventh-Day Adventist grandmother and probably many others, prayed for me when I was in my wild days with so many sinful ways. There was nothing appealing about me to any Christian at that time, but I'll be forever grateful for their prayers!

Sunday afternoon, August 23, 2009, I walked into a store and found myself thinking something very unkind and negative about someone I saw. I was shocked at my thoughts and I was still thinking about them the next morning. God was at work (as always) because someone called me and asked if I had checked Marsha Burns' prophetic website since last week. I hadn't, but here is the prophetic word from the Lord that Marsha had written on the previous Friday:

"August 21, 2009: I am opening the recesses of your heart to reveal the basis for attitudes and motivations that are detrimental to your relationship with Me and with others. As you look honestly at what I show you, there is a great opportunity for healing of things that have rooted themselves deeply in your soul. Now is a time when you can gain much needed liberty of body, soul and spirit. Allow Me to do this deep work in you, says the Lord."

Every one of us can have hidden things in our hearts/souls. As we are moving so quickly into these last days, this is a very good time to ask God what buried things does He want to bring to the surface of our understanding so He can deal with them. Here is a prayer that can help you do that:

Lord, I want to be free from any hidden thing in my heart/soul that is in the way of the next step you and I are to take together. I have prayed the binding and loosing prayers to help me surrender to you. Help me to see where I may have refused to release certain things, almost like declaring them to be exempt from what these prayers would do in my life. Whatever I might still be deceived about, I acknowledge that the very nature of deception is that it is hidden from the one who is deceived. I bind my will to your will, Father. I bind my mind to your mind, Jesus, wanting to align my thoughts with yours. I bind my emotions to the healing comfort and balance of your work, Holy Spirit.

I loose all protective layers that my soul has put over its hiding places, I loose all of my stronghold thinking, I loose the effects and influences of wrong agreements that I have made or that have been made about me, I loose old prejudices and bad attitudes buried inside my soul, and I loose the works of the enemy from myself. Forgive me for allowing my soul to hold onto things that are harmful to my relationship with you, my destiny, my health, and to others. Thank you for your love and faithfulness to help me get completely free to be who you created me to be. Amen

Don't Fight Me

When we begin to realize that what we think is best for us isn't the same thing that God says is best for us, our unsundered souls usually begin to resist whatever He wants to do. When it becomes clear that what is happening is completely contrary to what we want Him to do, our souls begin their guerilla warfare. Here is a list of things that God might really be saying when He says, "Don't fight me."

- Don't fight my purposes in your circumstances.
- Don't fight the growth I want to bring about in you.
- Don't fight my authority to mess with your expectations.
- Don't fight my voice asking you to go against your self-desires and emotional feelings.
- Don't fight my hand on your life.
- Accept that I'm challenging your wrong beliefs about your level of character.
- Accept that I'm challenging you to rise above your situation.
- Accept that I'm challenging you to move up into a new and higher dimension.

Pray and bind your will to God's will while loosing your soul's resistance to the first five things on this list. Declare that you are going to accept the last three things on the above list and cooperate with God in them. Remember that you cooperate with God by aligning (binding) your mind, will, and emotions to His will; then you begin getting rid of (by loosing) the wrong beliefs, wrong ideas, the effects and influences of wrong agreements, and all stronghold thinking from your soul. This positions you to cooperate with Him with the least possible amount of resistance from that unsundered rascal in you, your heart/soul!

Report on the DISLODGING AND DECLARING PRAYER OUTREACH

At LSM we are experiencing so many changes in our prayer lives, seeing changes in our families, and feeling more aware of what God is speaking to us. I have been amazed and deeply touched at the commitment of the DISLODGING AND DECLARING PRAYER OUTREACH Intercessors who have faithfully been praying with us since the first week of April. Here is what we have heard some of the Intercessors recently say:

June in Hawaii: My prayer life has been changed so much through this time of the intercession. Thank you for continuing for another 60 days in Phase 5.

Sharon in Kentucky: I am so thankful for the opportunity to continue to stand with you in Phase 5. May God continually bless each one of the Intercessors miraculously—each and every day for the rest of their lives!

Fiona in England: I am writing to register for Phase 5 of the Dislodging and Declaring Intercessors' prayer. I consider it a privilege to be part of this team.

Nan of Grenada: I cannot find words to express the changes that are taking place in my inner self. I've become aware of anger I have had for so many years and where it is coming from. It is painful to deal with, but it is getting easier. Thank you and the Intercessors for being there for me.

Marius in South Africa: With your approval I would like to participate in Phase 5. Blessings to all of you.

Shirley in Oklahoma: I'm declaring my intent to participate in Phase 5; this has been a blessing for me because the reality of my lifelong quest is manifesting with incredible results!

Zoya in the Ukraine: The Ukrainian Intercessors committing to go on with PHASE 5 are Larisa K, Larisa P, Milya P, Natasha M, and Zoya L

Jill in Australia: Much has happened since I began the Prayer Outreach. Difficult family relationships have improved and my prayer ministry has really increased as well.

Jon in Pennsylvania says: I'm on board with Phase 5! The Lord has blessed me so much this year spiritually and in the things that pertain to my life. I'm also very aware of the level of anger in people today that we should be praying about.

What is Anger?

Jon of Pennsylvania had a good word here. As he suggested, we should all be challenged to pray about the anger level in people today. Always remember that confronting an angry person about his/her anger rarely causes the anger to disappear. When you are facing an angry person or you observe someone else's anger, pray with them if you can—pray quietly for them if you cannot. This can be as simple as binding his/her will to the will of God and loosing angry thoughts from him/her.

Here is an in-depth prayer that you can pray for him/her when you are alone later:

Lord, I bind this person's mind, will, and emotions to you. There are unmet needs, unhealed hurts, and unresolved issues in his/her soul driving his/her hot, bitter words and emotional reactions. I bind his/her emotions to the healing balance and comfort of the Holy Spirit. I loose all layers that his/her soul has put down to cover unresolved issues that are causing feelings of unfairness and great pain, layers that are keeping God from getting into his/her soul to heal. Please help me and others who know you to comfort and befriend this person. Help me to remember to pray for this person beyond today. I loose wrong patterns of generational/cultural-bondage thinking from him/her. I loose the effects and influences of wrong agreements that others have made causing him/her to make more wrong agreements. Please strengthen and encourage and reveal Jesus to this person. Please pour out great grace and mercy upon him/her. I loose old mind sets from his/her soul that would resist your advances of love. Amen

Anger is a God-given and extremely powerful emotion. When used properly by a surrendered soul, anger can drive a person's boldness, courage, and commitment. When anger is used soulishly by an unsundered soul, it often causes destruction, great pain, and even death. Consider the power of fire and dynamite to bring about blessings of warmth and create freeway tunnels through mountains; fire and dynamite can also bring about destruction and death through arson and bombings. Their potential is determined by the use of them.

We all need to pray and bind those around the world (who are operating in levels of anger) to God's will and purposes and loose from them angry thinking and self-motivated agendas driven by their anger. Binding and loosing prayers cause unsundered souls to give up their pain and fear and anger and surrender to God's will and His ways, bringing this powerful emotion into alignment with His plans.

Anger is not a supernatural spirit. Nowhere in the Bible can you read about an evil spirit of anger. Anger is an emotional reaction from the soul. Psalm 4:4 (AMP), "Be angry [or stand in awe] and sin not; commune with your own hearts upon your beds and be silent (sorry for the things you say in your hearts). Selah [pause, and calmly think of that]!"

Anger should only be used for godly purposes; unfortunately it is one of the first emotions to rise up in our souls when people or situations step on pressure our unmet needs and unhealed hurts. An unsundered soul filled with stronghold thinking will rationalize and justify using this anger as a self-defense mechanism, a means of intimidation, a way of manipulating and controlling someone, or as a getting even tactic.

When angry thoughts are allowed to cycle through your mind again and again, they become addictive. You cannot bind yourself to peace and calmness, but you can loose angry thoughts and the recycling of them. That is the first step. As you make room in your soul by loosing your stronghold thinking of rationalizing and justifying your anger, you begin receiving more of God's peace and calmness when spending time with Him, reading the Word, and embracing His love.

Angry outbursts are reactions to unhealed hurts, unmet needs, and/or unresolved issues that your soul has stored away and wants revenge for. As a Christian you know that getting even is not a godly option for you, but just knowing that will not heal the source of your anger. Here is a prayer to help you open your soul to God's healing:

Lord, I don't want to be angry anymore! I have asked for your peace and your love many times, yet I still seem to lose it when certain things happen. Thank you that I do not need to know why these things make me angry; I just need to make room within my heart/soul to let you heal the sources of my anger. So I bind my will to your will, Lord, and I submit all that I know how to submit to you so you can fix me. I loose, smash, crush, and destroy stronghold thinking and defense mechanisms in my heart/soul, and I loose all deception and denial from myself. I am grateful that you want to fix me because part of me has been broken for a long time. I love you and I thank you. Amen

What Do I Do as Things Keep Getting More Difficult?

Here is a great passage from the Word to consider as we progress through the days ahead that look so rocky. These are difficult times and they are very distressful to everyone who does not realize that God still has everything under control!

Psalm 96:7-13 (The Message), "Bravo, GOD, Bravo! Everyone join in the great shout: Encore! In awe before the beauty, in awe before the might. Bring gifts and celebrate, bow before the beauty of GOD, then to your knees—everyone worship! Get out the message—GOD Rules! He put the world on a firm foundation; He treats everyone fair and square. Let's hear it from Sky, with Earth joining in, and a huge round of applause from Sea. Let Wilderness turn cartwheels, animals, come dance, put every tree of the forest in the choir—An extravaganza before GOD as he comes, as he comes to set everything right on earth, set everything right, treat everyone fair."

We have every right to believe that we are always on the mind and in the heart of God in all that He does as He fulfills His Word in these last days. Knowing what God has said is going to happen in the days ahead can take your breath away, I know (have you read the Book of Revelation lately?). I am so very grateful to be able to pray the binding and loosing prayers as I honestly don't know how to pray any other way and still stay out of God's way.

I do not want to be a stumbling block to anyone as He finally comes to set everything right on the earth!

We have every right to hope that those we love and care about are on His mind, also. Remember that hope is a word that means you have a sure expectation of God ALWAYS doing what is right and fair and best for those who know who He is and trust Him. When you are praying and standing in the gap for your loved ones who don't know Him, your Keys of the Kingdom prayers are going to impact them. Your Keys of the Kingdom prayers are going to impact how they will react to God's love and His pressure upon their souls. God's perfect answers for them will come right through the middle of their reactions to His love and His works.

Are you a Christian who is just desperately holding on to that proverbial knot in the rope, or are you a Christian who so believes God's promises that you are ready to roll up that rope, throw it over your shoulder, and set off to rescue others with it? Pastor Phil Myers of Bethel Temple Church in Michigan writes, "You can always tell the difference between a believer who has planted his feet in this world and one who has planted them in the Kingdom of God. Though all Christians live in both worlds at once, we choose daily which one we will invest in, and those who invest in the things of this world are shaken when this world is shaken. Those who invest in the Kingdom of God can persevere through anything."

Instead of Christians falling apart or huddling in the corner with whatever comforts them most in the natural, they should realize that their difficult times reveal what their hearts treasure most, i.e. financial security, comfort, recognition, or God's will regardless of the cost. Difficult times are a guaranteed path to your priorities that your unsundered soul has been working so hard to hide from you. Just know this: as Christians push through their difficulties instead of hiding from them, unshakable truth is pushing through from the other side to reveal to them whether they have been living an eternal vision or tolerating a temporary lie.

The binding and loosing prayers keep you from having to guess what you should do next. These prayers help you clear out your soul so God can begin pouring divine instruction, motivation, comfort, and grace into your life. Keep reminding yourself that Psalm 138:8 expresses that God will perform (and perfect) that which concerns you. That includes your family, your home, your finances, your health, your autos, and your pets. Binding yourself to God's will and loosing the works of your unsundered soul and the works of the enemy positions you to cooperate with God as He performs (and perfects) all that concerns you.

Pray the binding and loosing prayers purely without any personal additions until you can always pray for God's will in every issue. Don't try to tell Him what you think He should do. When you pray with specific lists that you want fulfilled and they aren't, that sets you up for disappointment when God seems to do exactly the opposite. You and I cannot see the effects of His perfect answers a week from now, two weeks from now, and on into the future; but He can. Trust what He is doing as you cooperate with Him and know that He knows what is best for everyone.

Continue to show one another and the world the qualities of grace, mercy, and love in all that you do. Jesus did not say that the world would know Him by your miracles, by your grand testimonies, or by your vast Bible knowledge. He said the world would know that you are one who serves Him by the love that you show to one another (John 13:35).

Christians, Do You Always Think Before YOU Speak?

The following is a letter to the editor of The Arizona Republic newspaper near Luke Air Force Base in Arizona. I have researched this on Snopes and Urban Legends on the Internet and it is true:

THE LETTER

"Question of the day for Luke Air Force Base: Whom do we thank for the morning air show? Last Wednesday, at precisely 9:11 a.m., a tight formation of four F-16 jets made a low pass over Arrowhead Mall, continuing west over Bell Road at approximately 500 feet. Imagine our good fortune! Do the Tom Cruise-wannabes feel we need this wake-up call, or were they trying to impress the cashiers at Mervyn's Early Bird Special? Any response would be appreciated."

THE RESPONSE

"Regarding 'A wake-up call from Luke's jets': On June 15, at precisely 9:12 a.m., a perfectly-timed, four-ship flyby of F-16s from the 63rd Fighter Squadron at Luke Air Force Base flew over the grave of Capt. Jeremy Fresques. Capt. Fresques was an Air Force officer who was previously stationed at Luke Air Force Base and was killed in Iraq on May 30, Memorial Day. At 9 a.m. on June 15, his family and friends gathered at Sunland Memorial Park in Sun City to mourn the loss of a husband, son, and friend.

"Based on the letter writer's recount of the flyby, and because of the jet noise, I'm sure you didn't hear the 21-gun salute, the playing of taps, or my words to the widow and parents of Capt. Fresques as I gave them their son's flag on behalf of the President of the United States and all those veterans and servicemen and women who understand the sacrifices they have endured. A four-ship flyby is a display of respect the Air Force pays to those who give their lives in defense of freedom. We are professional aviators and take our jobs seriously ... what the letter writer witnessed was four officers lining up to pay their ultimate respects.

"The letter writer asks, 'Whom do we thank for the morning air show?' The 56th Fighter Wing will forward your thanks to the widow and parents of Capt. Fresques ... it was in their honor that my pilots flew the most honorable formation of their lives."

Lt. Col. Scott Pleus
CO 63rd Fighter Squadron, Luke AFB

THE LETTER WRITER'S RESPONSE:

"I read with increasing embarrassment and humility the response to my unfortunate letter to the Arizona Republic concerning an Air Force flyby. I had no idea of the significance of the flyby, and I would never have insulted such a fine and respectful display had I known. I have received many calls from the fine airmen who are serving or have served at Luke, and I have attempted to explain my side and apologized for any discomfort my letter has caused. This was simply an uninformed citizen complaining about noise.

"My heart goes out to each and every lost service man and woman in this war in which we are engaged. I have been called un-American by an unknown caller ... I served in the U.S. Navy and I am a Vietnam veteran. I love my country and respect the jobs that the service organizations are doing. Please accept my heartfelt apologies. Tom MacRae

New Binding and Loosing Prayer Manual SHIPPING!

Writing this Prayer Manual was a very special time for me. My proofreader said a couple of the prayers seriously changed his attitudes on some things. Writing the nearly 180 page (8.5"x11") Manual did the same thing to me, too. A Good Word About Not Worrying Your Prayers

James 1:5-8 (The Message), "If you don't know what you're doing, pray to the Father. He loves to help. You'll get his help, and won't be condescended to when you ask for it. Ask boldly, believingly, without a second thought. People who worry their prayers are like wind-whipped waves. Don't think you're going to get anything from the Master that way, adrift at sea, keeping all your options open."

Fix your faith not on the answer you want, but on the fact that He has the perfect answer

His answer will ultimately always be the very best and the most exciting and fulfilling for everyone involved.

Changes Coming in LSM

It appears that we will be closing the LSM main offices at 6060 Sunrise Vista before the end of the year. Please note: this DOES NOT mean that LSM is closing down. Linda and I, as well as my Board, have discussed this and agreed the expenses of leasing and maintaining the offices, the phone lines, staff payroll taxes, workers' compensation costs, credit card processing fees, other costs of processing orders, product inventories, and so much more are not directly related to the end-time harvest. For example, I have not had a paycheck from LSM for approximately three years, yet Workers' Comp rules force us to pay workers' compensation charges on a large, non-existent salary because I am a Board Director working at the ministry.

We do not want to continue to spend the ministry's money for expenses that are not contributing directly to the Kingdom of God. We ask for your prayers to help us find God's way out of our final costs-of-doing-business debts.

We are choosing to use the support from our LSM Partners and many of you on more personal outreaches such as free books to prisoners and missionaries, these teaching newsletters and other teachings, Internet expenses so I can continue my question and answer e-mail ministry, the maintenance of the websites and my blog, free downloads of different mini-courses and other writings, and much more.

Linda will be leaving, but she is excited about a new phase of ministry God is opening up for her. We will be closing out our current inventory of books and DVDs and prayer charts in a big sale very soon. After that the DVDs and prayer charts (except the large Unsundered Soul colored chart) will no longer be available. Robert (LSM Level II Certified Teacher) and Chrystal Little are positioning themselves to take over the sales of all of my print books by the end of the year.

The Long Distance Training Program will continue by electronic download on libertysavard2u.com. The LSM teaching newsletters will still be available by e-mail alert and on the LSM website. Both websites, www.libertysavard.com and www.libertysavard2u.com, are still going to be up and active. The DISLODGING AND DECLARING PRAYER OUTREACH ministry will definitely continue on as it has made such an impact on so many, and our weekly prayer meetings will continue as well. The only real change to our ministry friends will be that you will no longer be able to phone us for prayer and advice or order prayer charts and DVDs. But I have some alternatives to offer.

Changes in Liberty's Ministry

I am not a person who likes change, but I am slowly getting excited about where I believe the Lord is leading me next. I will be continuing my e-mail/Internet ministry of Questions and Answers just as I have for over ten years. I truly believe that many Christians, particularly new believers, run into bumps in their walk that a word in season or the suggestion of how to implement one or two changes in their lives can get them back on their feet and moving forward again.

I have been mentoring, teaching, and praying for people with the message of the Keys of the Kingdom since 1986; I've been an ordained minister since (approximately) 2000. I have been training others to minister hope and healing by teaching the Keys of the Kingdom/Unsundered Soul message since 1998. And now I am planning to begin a new phase of ministry in the next 6-8 weeks:

Keys of the Kingdom Christian Life Coaching.

As I said above, I will continue the Question and Answers by Liberty E-mail/Internet ministry with no changes. The Keys of the Kingdom Christian Life Coaching ministry will be for those of you who feel you want more in-depth Keys of the Kingdom Life Coaching (by telephone or Skype for international calls) for a modest fee. Please pray for me while I begin this new ministry. I'm working out the details at this time. Watch both the LSM and the LS2U websites for further information.

Liberty Rebuked for Answering Questions from Men!

Liberty: You should not be ministering to men. You are out of order. Many men ask you questions and for advice, but you need to refer them to a Godly man that you trust. Women should only minister to women according to Scripture. Juliet

Juliet: Here's the deal. Men do come to me for advice after reading my books. Would you suggest that I put a warning on the covers of my books that men are not allowed to read them?

Many of these men have already had good counsel and prayer from other men, but they did not get an understanding of how to implement it by getting past their unsundered souls' guard dogs. One man contacted me who had been to several different pastors for counsel on an extremely difficult personal problem. These godly men all told him they weren't sure what he should do, but that they would pray with him.

Godly prayer is always good, but the best-intentioned prayer and concern offered for a deep-rooted issue of long standing will not always overturn a stubborn unsundered soul that is determined to fight against all outside help.

The binding and loosing prayers do NOT require an understanding of and a plan for overcoming difficult personal issues that perhaps no one has ever figured out how to fix. Binding and loosing prayers do NOT require years of therapy and thousands of dollars to teach someone how to master deep personal problems. Binding and loosing prayers simply deal with loosing (stripping out) the unsundered soul's frantic wrong beliefs and soulish attempts to fix itself. This creates a way for God to begin to pour in answers and guidance and grace and mercy for the healing of the soul so it can be made whole and ready to fulfill its end-time purposes.

He is the only One who knows how to fix anything and everything!

I have had Catholic male pastors, Charismatic male pastors, male politicians, male deacons, male youth leaders, male heads of ministries, and unsaved men come to me for advice and prayer, and they were grateful for the prayer counsel that I gave. Men have long standing, deep-rooted issues just like women and teens do, and they can be quite desperate for something that gives them an understanding of the Keys they need to cooperate with God's work of grace in their lives. This same understanding can also help them to cooperate with counsel and godly advice from other men as well!

Juliet, I don't think you fully realize that my counsel is a combination of Scripture, common sense, reassurance of God's love and forgiveness, and the praying of the binding and loosing prayers. All these men responded to finally understanding the difference between being told WHAT THEY SHOULD DO and being told HOW THEY COULD DO IT so they cooperate with what God wanted for them.

I was saved in 1972 (or 1971) when there were strong teachings that women should not advise or minister to men. I honestly did not know what to do when men kept e-mailing and writing and calling me for some kind of help after they read my books. I spoke on television one day about this message and a man who had been charged with child molestation and jailed (sex with a 16 year old when he was 18) called the television station and told me he was going to commit suicide because he was about to be "out"ed in his church. I reassured him, encouraged him, prayed with him, and he was helped. And he is alive! There was no other man there who would pray with him.

I told God when I got the first phone call from a man who had read my first book that I didn't know what to do about his asking for my help. But I did know that I had the understanding of the Keys to the Kingdom and that would help me help him if God was giving me the green light. I also told God that if He would show me a man He wanted me to turn the men over to, or if He would just send them to someone else, I would stop praying with them. God has blessed the books, the message, the ministry, and me, and He has not told me to stop. When something works and God is using it to set others free, you go with it until He says stop. Liberty

Testimonies

I am a volunteer at a prison unit for men incarcerated for crimes associated with addiction to/use of illegal drugs. Your materials are especially helpful in ministering to these men, and the eBook I just ordered from you answers questions that were asked just this past week. I have also used your books as well as questions and answers with women that I have counseled and disciplined with great success. Thank you! J

Thank you for your intense work for the Body of Christ. Your books have brought life to me many times. M.

I was a part of the original Intercessors group Phase 1 and as a result of those declarations and prayers, God has totally restored a broken family relationship of almost 20 years between my husband and his son. The prodigal son has returned! Last week my son drove across several states to spend the weekend with his Dad.

Then he surprised his 90-year old grandmother, whom he had not seen in over 10 yrs, and introduced her to her 4½ year old great-grandson. Generational curses that have bound both sides of our family have been broken. Blessings and hugs to you and your team of Intercessors. I look forward to one day meeting you in person. Thank you so much for your faithfulness to His calling. Gloria of MO.

This is long overdue, but I want to encourage you. Ever since I began reading your books (2005), your teachings have changed the way I pray and the way I deal with my thought life. I prayed for my dad to lose weight (265 at one time, he's very short) and now he's at 207 and still losing. He had said that he didn't think he could or ever would lose weight, but God's grace has helped him make it so. Your teachings have also brought me closer to fellowship with the Father, Jesus, and the Holy Spirit. Bless you, Steven

I just came across your book again. I have been struggling with a hurt from my past that an older relative started perpetrating upon me when I was about 5. I didn't read your book when I bought it back in 1999, I just put in our library. But I am reading it now with new eyes. I'm 56 years old and still struggling with this hurt in my life. My hope is in God's grace working through your book. I am so excited about rediscovering your ministry. Thank you, Sukie

Hans and I are at our 26th day of praying the Page 30 prayer in Breaking the Power. It's doing WONDERS in our lives. I'm beyond myself with excitement! I sent Joanne (my New Age friend in Hawaii) your trilogy and she received it yesterday.

I have prayed the binding and losing prayers for her without her knowing it for quite some time now. Previously I could not even mention Christianity to her. Today she told me that your books are phenomenal and that it's time for her to find direction in her life. Wow! She's going to pray the prayer on Page 30 for 30 days because I challenged her to do so after telling her what it has done for me and Hans. Please pray that God will touch her and heal her and that she will accept Jesus to be her Lord and Savior. W.W. in Africa

Liberty's Note to W.W. Be sure you keep praying for Joanne if she is going to dive right into the Page 30 Prayer. My, my! She'll be in for a bumpy ride, but she might just get to the truth quicker than usual. I'll pray with you.

Questions and Answers

QUESTION: Things have gotten so bad at our small church that some of our leaders have left. The pastor operates out of his flesh and teaches salvation by works, saying that people can lose their salvation if they are not bearing fruit. We want to protect the people who are still there as we are associate pastors, but we honestly don't know how. How do we go forward when we don't have agreement? Becky J

Becky J: Keep praying the binding and loosing prayers for yourselves, for this pastor and his family, and for everyone in the church. Loose word curses, wrong prayers, and the effects and influences of wrong agreements from this pastor and all others who are involved in this situation. Remind everyone that it is God's place to protect the people from the leadership of your church, not yours or theirs. Your place is to pray and seek that God's will would be done.

God knows everything that is going on. He is seeking your agreement that He knows what is best for everyone involved and that He will straighten things out for everyone if all of you will agree that He can do this. Start praying this way with those who will agree about this, and I believe the others will begin to join you. God bless, I prayed for you today.

QUESTION: We invited a man my husband knew from the service to live with us; I assumed that we would be like one big family with no difficulties. But this man keeps changing my curtains to suit himself and leaving food lying around. I told him tonight that this bothers me, but he says I'm just picky. Would the binding and loosing prayers get this man to stop what he's doing? Sincerely, Greta Greta: Binding and loosing prayers are not for personal agendas like making this man respect your boundaries. They are for helping him to surrender to God. Pray these prayers for him, but be open to how they begin to manifest changes in his life (and in your life, too!). Maybe God's will is to show you that you are too rigid in some areas. I've been told I am too rigid because I don't like people moving my furniture (not even half an inch!). Go figure!

When we pray the binding and loosing prayers, God is often multi-tasking in our lives as well as the lives of those we pray for. He rarely misses taking advantage of situations that will reveal things we didn't see coming! Liberty

QUESTION: Yesterday I was in an intercession group and as I prayed for a political leader, I bound the leader's mind to the mind of Christ. I was told in front of the whole group that it was witchcraft for me to bind someone's mind to the mind of Christ because this is praying against the person's will and it was witchcraft. A couple of other people in the group agreed that it was witchcraft. I would love to have your thoughts on that. Thanks, God Bless, Sherry Sherry: Forgive me for speaking bluntly, but that is their human souls speaking about something they don't understand themselves but they want everyone else to believe anyway. When you bind someone's mind to the mind of Christ, you are not imprisoning his or her free will. The person you prayed this for can pull away from Christ at any time.

God doesn't take away anyone's free will even when it is leading them towards to divorce, disease, loss of friends, loss of jobs, prison, or poverty. How many people do you know who have chosen to go with their free wills that ended up in such terrible final situations?

When you bind someone's mind to the mind of Christ, you are snugging them up close and personal with His thoughts and His ways. You are giving them the opportunity to hear His guidance on how to deal with issues that will arise in their lives during the day. BUT, when you do this you are not trying to hold them there. In fact, you cannot hold them there. What you are doing is like holding people up to a window to see what they don't think they want to see, and then it catches their eyes and they become very interested.

Again, the person whose mind has been bound to the mind of Christ in prayer is free to pull away from the thoughts of Christ at any time. The Bible says that we are to let His mind be in us, so we can be sure there is a definite advantage to this. When we bind someone's mind to His mind, there is always a chance that in that brief moment he or she will hear something that he or she will think about all day.

I do not think the people in this prayer group really know what witchcraft is. Many do not.

Witchcraft is always an attempt to control the mind or the will of someone else for the personal gain of the one attempting to control.

Where is the personal gain for the person who is praying and binding someone's mind to the mind of Christ or to the will of God? There is none. There is only a potential blessing and the strong possibility of breaking through the nonsense of the defenses of his or her unsundered soul. Never forget that unsundered souls seem to think that they exist to keep people from hearing the thoughts of Christ and knowing the good plans and purposes of God. Liberty

Who and What is LIBERTY SAVARD MINISTRIES?

Reverend Liberty S. Savard, President of Liberty Savard Ministries, Inc. (a non-profit corporation), was born again in 1972. She is an ordained minister with credentials from the Evangelical Church Alliance (P.O. Box 9, Bradley, Illinois 60915). Rev. Savard has served as a singles director, associate pastor, speaker, and Bible teacher. She is the author of Shattering Your Strongholds (1993 Bridge-Logos Pub.), Breaking the Power (1997 Bridge-Logos Pub.), Producing the Promise (1999 Bridge-Logos Pub.), and several mini-books and workbooks. With The Unsundered Soul (2002 Bridge-Logos Pub.), Apples of Gold in Baskets of Silver (2003 Bridge-Logos Pub.), and BEYOND Shattered Strongholds (Bridge-Logos Pub.) and The Binding and Loosing Prayer Manual (2009) she now has 15 books in print around the world.

This ministry believes the Scriptures are inspired of God, infallible, and fully authoritative for Christian faith and conduct. Jesus Christ, the Son of God, was born of a virgin, lived a sinless life on Earth, died on the cross in a substitutionary work of redemption for mankind, rose again and now sits at the right hand of the Father. Through Christ's shed blood and renewal of the Holy Ghost, justified by grace through faith, man becomes an heir of God with absolute hope of eternal life.

This ministry teaches Christians how to cause their unsundered souls (old natures) to surrender to the will and purposes of God. LSM also teaches Christians how to loose emotional baggage from their souls to create room within themselves to receive all God has promised to them for today. This allows believers to fulfill their destinies while walking in knowledge and power to bring glory and honor to God the Father! This ministry also teaches God's people how to pray with the Keys of the Kingdom (Matthew 16:19) to impact things on earth so they come into alignment with God's already established will in heaven. This ministry is also dedicated to training Christians how to pray purely without "want lists" and instruction manuals for God (so He will know how best to answer their prayers!). Effective prayers with pure motives declare that God's will shall be done on Earth as He has so set it in heaven.
