Word from Liberty
Practicing Distraction

I’ve been speaking with people these days about the economy, their health, and other issues concerning their lives.

In praying with them, I have found that many of them do something troubling when they pray. We would thank God, praise His name, and bind and loose what we felt He had already bound and loosed in heaven. Then together we would say a hearty Amen! to affirm that we really believed what we had just said.

This word Amen basically means that you are confirming that you really mean what you just said or heard and you have faith in what you just said or heard. In effect, you are saying, “Yes, so be it!” Too many will say Amen! and then quickly slip in a little worry or fussiness right after their Amen. This is sort of like asking God to take care of a car insurance/accident situation, ending the prayer with Amen! and then quickly adding, “I hope God doesn’t let them get out of paying for this auto work. I certainly shouldn’t have to pay for it! I want what I deserve here.”

This is proof that while you were praying, your unsurrendered soul kept pumping out its negative words, doubts, and worries and running them on you.

I have prayed with people using the binding and loosing prayers for what I call the big picture only to realize they were not happy because I didn’t pray what they wanted me to pray. I may have prayed for everyone instead of just the person they were concerned about. I may have prayed for encouragement, mercy, and strength for someone involved that they really did not like. We all need to learn how to pray like Jesus wants us to pray instead of praying what we want. That means we are going to have to start practicing distraction on our souls. It is so easy for our souls to get our minds chasing us around in circles if we do not know how to distract them from both Satan’s work and our souls’ works.

We have all had embarrassing things happen to us that have shamed us or made us feel we were treated unfairly. When your mind starts running that loop, you need to start practicing distracting it and quickly begin to pray good things for every person who was involved in the situation. These are distractions that have never (NEVER!) failed to quiet my mind if I just commit to using them immediately.

If I begin to dwell on something unpleasant from the past involving a certain person(s), I must remember that I do not know everything that has happened or is happening to them. I must choose to not judge him/her/them. I must instead begin praying the binding and loosing prayers asking God to bless, heal, encourage, strengthen, and shower miracles on them. Practicing this distraction helps to keep you from giving the devil place or a foothold in your life. Ephesians 4:26-27:

“In your anger do not sin: Do not let the sun go down while you are still angry, and do not give the devil a foothold (place in your life)” (NIV).

As you pray these prayers for anyone who surfaces in your emotions and your mind like a prickly star thistle, you must genuinely mean what you ask God to do for that person. This is the first key to making this practice of distraction work. You might have to pray four or five times for blessing, healing, encouragement, strength, and a shower of miracles for the other person before you start feeling like you mean it, but this prayer will change your feelings for the better!

The second key is to not just pray in your mind; pray out loud even if it is only a tiny whisper. Pray out loud if you have to step outside in a rain storm. Just do it! Speaking out the words helps to keep your soul from playing games with your thoughts. The third key is to not tell yourself that you’ll pray later that day or that night. Do it immediately! Do this and you will be amazed at how much weight seems to lift off you and how your day begins to brighten right up.

1. Pray and really mean what you are saying.
2. Pray out loud, even if it is a whisper.
3. Pray immediately.

Colossians 3:2 (The Message): “Don’t shuffle along, eyes to the ground, absorbed with the things right in front of you. Look up, and be alert to what is going on around Christ—that’s where the action is. See things from his perspective.”

So, when something or someone starts to fester in your mind and your emotions, don’t let those thoughts and feelings chase you around in a loop. Begin to pray like it is shown in previous paragraphs for your self and for any person(s) involved in whatever issue you feel is attached to how you are thinking and feeling. This includes people who cut you off on the freeway, people who cut in line ahead of you, or people who are just acting very badly in public places. I love The Message version of Hebrews 12:2-3:

“Keep your eyes on Jesus, who both began and finished this race we’re in. Study how he did it. Because he never lost sight of where he was headed—that exhilarating finish in and with God—he could put up with anything along the way: cross, shame, whatever. And now he’s there, in the place of honor, right alongside God. When you find yourselves flagging in your faith, go over that story again, item by item, that long litany of hostility he plowed through. That will shoot adrenaline into your souls!”

This is not a plan for how to become a better martyr! This is the plan, the promise, and the practice of learning how to become a rock-solid, steady, strong, exciting Christian without the wobbles and the whatever you may still be experiencing from the past experiences of your life.

Always remember that the written Word of God is not a book of rules and regulations telling you what you must do or else you will be punished. It is a book of loving instructions on how to change all of the flawed thinking, reactive emotions, and willfulness being pumped out of your unsurrendered soul (old nature). It is a book of loving instruction on how to live a great life.

The issue of my heart difficulties and health in general and what it has been doing to my ministry will be a major topic of discussion at the school. Don’t miss out!

Side Effects from Praying the Keys of the Kingdom

By Cheryl Weeks, LSM Australian Director

When I started praying the binding and loosing prayers, I had no idea how they would cause my whole Christian walk to be turned upside-down!

More than 20 years ago, I started Bible School through my local church but had to cease when the church discontinued the course. Five years ago, a friend lent me a book by Liberty entitled Shattering Your Strongholds. I started binding my mind to the mind of Christ and my will to the will and purposes of God, as well as binding my feet to the paths He had ordained for me to walk. I also loosed lots of stuff my soul had ferreted away in the far corners of my mind—stuff like old thought patterns, wrong beliefs, and preconceived ideas I had about my ability to succeed. I have been to the US twice for training and understanding of this exciting message.

It wasn’t so much a dramatic change, rather it was a subtle shift in how I prayed and the choices I made. The answers to prayer came more swiftly and I could see more clearly what God wanted me to do. But the side effects have been this:

I CAN NO LONGER GET AWAY WITH ANYTHING!!

Therefore, I have to tell you how it all happened, but through continued surrender of my soul through the binding and loosing prayers, God placed me on a path that would lead me deeper into my destiny. I was led to a church where I would be offered the opportunity to do an Internship through Harvest Bible College in Australia. I am halfway through the training, studying for my Certificate IV in Pastoral Ministry.
God has been equipping and enabling me to do extremely well in all my assignments so far. At 59 years of age, that is quite an achievement for someone who did not do all that well at school!

God has also opened doors for me to preach and speak publicly, something I never had the confidence to do before I began praying the binding and loosing prayers. Using the Keys of the Kingdom has become such a natural part of my prayer life, I cannot imagine praying any other way.

Romans 12:2: “Do not conform any longer to the pattern of this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind. Then you will be able to test and approve what God’s will is—His good, pleasing and perfect will.”

The binding and loosing prayers give me the power of the Keys of the Kingdom to make room within my soul for renewal as well as whatever God has in store for my destiny.
I thank Him constantly for Liberty and this ministry.

Taking the Keys to the Cowboys and Cowgirls in Texas
By Dee Vickery

I recently held a two-day Shattering Your Strongholds Conference at the High Mesa Cowboy Church in Brownwood, Texas. I was expecting the Lord to show up and show out, and He didn’t disappoint me the least! The church and the pastor were just like dry sponges soaking up the revelation that was coming from the Word of God.

The first night I taught from the Scriptures about what God says about our flesh, our carnal nature, or as Liberty Savard says: our unsurrendered souls. I could see the lights coming on all over the church as God was bringing understanding.
Sunday morning the Lord had me kick over some “sacred cows” concerning much of what the church world has been incorrectly taught about the devil. I let them know that he is not all that and a bag of tatier chips! He can be dangerous, but only if we give him room. That’s why the apostle Paul said we were to give no place to the devil.

I then showed them from the Word of God that it’s our unsurrendered souls that gives the devil place in our lives.
Sunday night I taught them how we could close those doors of access and influence. So much of what we’ve been taught has only kept us in a Spiritual survival mode.

The pastor had everyone who needed a touch from God to come forward. Oh My! We had little children 4 or 5 years old come. A precious grandma in her 80s came. God moved so sweetly as cowboys all over the building were being touched by His grace and mercy. Tears of release and hope were falling from their eyes as they realized they could use the Keys of the Kingdom to be sucked right up to the things of God (cowboys and cowgirls understand that kind of talk!).

Even after the pastor dismissed church, the Lord continued to work. Folks were praying up at the front of the church and out in the foyer. Even out in the parking lot the folks were using what they had just been taught about a new and more powerful way to pray! It was nothing short of awesome. All glory and honor and praise go the Him!

One more time I want to thank Liberty Savard for being obedient to the Lord for so many years in bringing out the revelation He gave her to take to the church. I’ve been operating in this revelation for 10 years and I have seen prayer answered so fast and powerfully that sometimes it scares me (in a good way)!!!!

For the scholars who would take the words bind/binding and loose/loosing (in Matthew 16:19, 18:18) back to the Rabbinical explanations of these terms, consider these thoughts from the study in Robertson’s Word Pictures in the New Testament on the Keys of the Kingdom.

In Matthew 16:17-19, Jesus said He was giving the Keys of the Kingdom over to Peter as the gatekeeper or steward (Greek: oikonomos) of the revelation. Peter was the first among equals to receive these Keys. Peter spoke from a revelation from God regarding this as a spokesman for the faith of all. In Matthew 18:1-18, Jesus spoke to all of His disciples saying that whatever they would bind and loose on earth would be bound and loosed in heaven. The same power given to Peter belongs to every believer in all the ages.

Arguing over the meaning of these Keys, binding and loosing, is nothing new to this century. People have been in dispute about their meaning and many other things since Jesus’ time. Around this same time in history there were two famous divinity and philosophical schools among the Jews, that of SHAMMAI and that of HILLEL. Rabbis of the school of Hillel loosed many things that the school of Shammai bound. These two popular schools were in opposition to many of each other’s interpretations.

For example: According to Adam Clarke’s Commentary, the Shammah teachers maintained that a man could not legally put away his wife except for whoredom. The school of Hillel taught that a man might put away his wife for a multitude of other causes such as when she no longer found grace in his sight or when he saw another woman who pleased him more.
Adam Clarke’s Commentary has some pretty strong words about the squabbling Rabbi teachers of that time as mentioned in 1 Timothy 6:4, “He is proud, knowing nothing, but doting about questions and strifes of words, whereof cometh envy, strife, railings, evil surmisings.”

- He is proud (enphoohtai) means to be blown up or inflated with a vain opinion of his own knowledge.
- Doting about questions means one who was (enamored) with questions relative to the Mosaic Law and the traditions of the elders, often straining out a gnat and swallowing a camel.
- Strifes of words (logomachias, logomachies) means verbal contentions; splitting hairs, pitting Hillel against Shammai and Shammai against Hillel.
- Whereof cometh envy, strife, railings, evil surmisings.

Adam Clarke asks, “What good have religious disputes ever done to mankind, or to the cause of truth? Rather than seeking truth, the Rabbis often labored to accredit their own standings by abusing and defaming others.”

If you find yourself confronted by someone who wants to argue over the prayer principles of binding and loosing, do not argue with them. God told me that I was not to try to defend this message because that was His job. Simply ask the person if there is something you can pray the prayers for where everyone has been waiting for answers to come for a long time. Assure them you will simply bind everyone involved to God’s will while loosing stronghold thinking and the works of the enemy from them. Then be faithful to do that and wait to see what God does.

New Bundle Packages of Long Distance Training Teachers/Believers Individual Study Sessions

Liberty has wanted to make it possible for training with required resources to be available to anyone anywhere in the world. We have found that we have had many purchases of the individual Session Study Manuals and DVDs or Audio downloads without the corresponding books which contain each Session’s Reading Assignments.

In order to help during this economy so that students don’t have to order these extra books, we are now offering our new LDT Individual Session BUNDLES that include the Session Teaching DVD, the Session Manual, all Session Reading Assignments necessary, and a Session Teaching CD (for your car or your CD player) for $38. Your questions seeking answers from Liberty are also part of these Bundles.

The Long Distance Training Believers studies on the LS2U electronic download site are also being re-worked to include individual Session Study Manual BUNDLE downloads complete with Session Manual, Session Reading.
Assignments, and Audio Teachings (ready by May 2009). But these Bundles are currently available:

#1 Shattering Your Strongholds I
#2 Shattering Your Strongholds II
#5 The Unsurrendered Soul I
#6 The Unsurrendered Soul II
#7 It’s Not About You Anymore
#8 Praying for Others with the Keys of the Kingdom
#9 Praying for Family with the Keys of the Kingdom
#10 Relationships

BUNDLE ordering options on these Sessions are now available on the LSM website. You can study any subject shown in-depth and then email Liberty if you have questions. This new BUNDLE program will eventually apply to all 16 Sessions of the LDT Program.

Testimonials

I have read all of Liberty Savard’s books and have applied her teachings about the Keys of the Kingdom in prayer since 2005. They have made a huge difference in my life. These writings have transformed me from a king’s kid to a kingdom kid. Keep up the work, Liberty Savard! Steven

I can’t tell you what a wonderful ride it has been reading Shattering Your Strongholds. I have 25 years in the Military and I am praying about becoming an Army chaplain. I was in Kuwait for a year and I have realized that I have some triggers in my soul that have been creating some real emotional struggles in me. The wonderful discovery of your book has now put me on a path of binding my mind to Christ and loosing excuses. THANK YOU. Keep up the awesome work and thank you for paying the way. H. Davison

Hi, Liberty! Thank you VERY much for your help to all of us who need to understand the Keys of the Kingdom prayers. These Keys have become instrumental in my growth in Jesus and have given me the ability to let go of junk clogging my thinking. New thinking from God is filling my mind which is becoming clearer daily. I am a single woman, 52, who has struggled with wrong relationships with the wrong men for decades. I am finally on the right road and know that God really is enough. If God chooses me just for himself, I am happy. If He sends me a right relationship, I’ll be happy with that, too!

Dear Rev. Savard: Thank you for all that you have allowed God to do in your life that is affecting millions of people. Your books and newsletters continue to set me and others free while moving us on into producing the fruit God wants us to. I will always remember that if I am not walking in love, it is because I have not made room for it to be in me. I will pray the prayers binding myself to the truth of God while loosing and smashing all that needs to go so I can receive and pour out, receive and pour out, and receive and pour out. I thank God for you every day and I tell everyone about your books, too. My hope is to one day sit under your teaching and listen to you speak. Joy, Texas

Liberty: Thank you so much for your personal attention to my missing book order. I know you are so busy and to think you would take the time personally to make sure I got my order tells me a lot about you. Your books are the type of teachings that can be read over and over, and they need to be. There is so much meat in them that I think I choked a little on them the first time around. Keep up the great work. I plan on buying more of your audio teachings. I listen to them on my way to and from work. Be blessed, Al

Liberty: I pray for at least 30 people every day. I’m getting bored and feeling mechanical using the Keys. I wonder if this is really what God wanted. Can you help me? Debbi Debbi: Bless your heart if you are praying these prayers for 30 people every day! Be sure that you always pray the binding and loosing prayers for yourself first. That is very important. Don’t ever forget that you have to keep the Praying Person strong and on track!

This is not an unusual question. I pray for different people throughout the day rather than sitting down and going through each name with each prayer all at one time. I can see how that could certainly seem mechanical. At the end of the day, if I can’t remember whether I got around to someone or not, or if I should have prayed more for them, then I trust that the Holy Spirit to call my attention to whoever was left out and shouldn’t have been. I generally only mention their names once if there are a group of them, and then I pray for all of those in the group. I pray corporate binding and loosing prayers and then pray for any individuals who seem to just jump into my mind.

I always add a blessing on to the binding and loosing prayers: Lord, please pour out your grace, mercy, blessings, guidance, strength, encouragement, and love upon this person (these people) today. What you are doing when you pray these prayers is that you are foiling the enemy’s deceptions and their souls’ distractions which would interfere with their ability to hear from God and their ability to want to do things His way. In a very small way, you could liken what you are doing to your soul when you pray with the Keys to giving a reluctant kid a bath that he/she doesn’t want. They always feel so good when their clean and in clean clothes afterwards. That is when they usually want to snuggle up close.

Liberty: Could you please explain the difference between striving and running after God? Donna

Donna: The best answer I can give you is that striving is generally used in reference to putting forth great personal effort to achieve what you want, even though you might think you are in God’s will.

Running after God has to do with aggressively seeking to know Him through His Word and through spending quiet time with Him, as well as through the time you spend in praise and worship of Him. You do this in order to get to know Him better and to understand more about His character. Hope this helps.

Liberty: There is a terrible situation happening at my church and people are spreading rumors that no one knows whether to believe or not. I am refusing to talk to anyone or listen to anyone talking about the pastor and his wife. What should I do and how should I pray? Barry

Barry: Maintain your refusal to enter into discussions about the pastor. Then pray like this:

Father, I bind everyone involved in this situation to your will and purposes—myself, my brother, the pastor and his wife, the rest of the people, and whoever else is influencing this issue in any manner. I bind everyone’s minds to the mind of Christ. I bind everyone’s emotions to the healing balance of the Holy Spirit.

I loose, smash crush, and destroy the effects and influences of all wrong agreements that have been made and are being made regarding this situation and everyone involved. I loose word curses, wrong beliefs, deception, and denial from everyone involved. I loose the ways of the world and the works of the enemy that would come against anyone involved (1 John 3:8). Lord, please pour your truth, understanding, and love out on anyone who is involved. We all need your help. Amen.

I prayed for all of you today, Liberty

How do I know if anything is happening when I pray the binding and loosing prayers if I can’t see God doing anything in any of my family members? I have been discouraged and have almost stopped praying at times.

Kathy

Kathy: Keys of the Kingdom Rule #1 – don’t ever judge what God is or is not doing by what you see in the natural! If you are praying in right agreement with His will for yourself and for others, He is ALWAYS working in their lives in some manner. I promise you this.

Keep praying the binding and loosing prayers, even re-reading whatever Keys of the Kingdom books that you have. I know I can get inspired all over again when I re-read the books in order to work on updating or revising them. That just happened with me this past week. I have always said that whatever God wants me to write or share, He always seems to put me through a personal review on my own life in the same area.

I had a run-in with one of my difficult people this past week as I was finishing the writing on my Long Distance Training Session 10 Relationships Manual. I began to get upset and stressed out at this person, thinking, “Here we go again!” As I began to rationalize and justify wrong thoughts and behaviors on my part, I was suddenly confronted with the realization that I was doing exactly the opposite of what I was telling others they should to do in the same situation. Ouch!

That always make me squirm and wiggle and realize that I am going to have to straighten up and line up with what I am teaching or have to admit that I am acting like a hypocrite! I straightened up, prayed and acted as I was urging others to do, and the situation resolved itself. The situation even proved to be quite a bit different from what my soul was trying to push me to believe.

The key is to pray the binding and loosing prayers for your self and for the other person(s) immediately! Immediately means start praying the second you begin to hear wrong thought patterns in your thoughts (REGARDLESS of how true or fair they seem!). Immediately means the second you begin to realize that you are wanting to expose the other person a little bit, get even a little bit, or lightly slam dunk the other person who just won’t seem to change. Not always easy to pray nice prayers for them, but it is always the best way to get to a peaceful, blessed, true answer to situations and the lives of everyone involved.

Liberty: I am reading The Unsurrendered Soul and I have read Shattering your Strongholds. I am praying the prayers, but struggling to read the Word because I am so convicted. I am doing everything I know to get free. I am working with a couple of counselors, but I am not seeing the breakthrough that I so desperately need. I know the Lord is coming soon and I want my heart right with God. I need His help but I don’t feel Him. I feel like I just continue going round and round in circles. Why am I not seeing anything changing? Amy

If you keep a dog on a 12-foot chain for years, the dog becomes conditioned to believing that this is his world; he becomes mentally and emotionally unable to imagine going beyond that 12-foot distance. You can take the chain off and the dog will not go more than 12 feet away from post that held the chain. It has been conditioned not to. If you force the dog outside of that area, it can become very nervous and insecure.

I believe your soul has conditioned you to believe that you cannot go beyond the “chain” it has assigned to you, that is it not safe move out into breakthrough. As you are praying the binding and loosing prayers, remember this:

The focus of these prayers is to force your soul to surrender its deception and denial and stronghold thinking to God’s will. His will for you is wonderful and gracious and full of peace and love. As you pray, add these words into your prayers: “I loose the effects and influences of all wrong agreements that I have come into. I loose any soul ties that I have been involved in with anyone else.” Then pray to loose/destroy the works of the enemy (1 John 3:8) from yourself and from others just as Jesus came to earth to do.

Question: I have been enjoying reading your books for some time now, but I don’t seem to have made a great deal of progress with the loosing and binding. I believe that this difficulty comes from spending several years studying faith teaching. There seems to be a consensus with faith teaching that a believer should only have to pray once for something to happen (see Mark 11:23). Jason Jason: These prayers are not designed to get you what you are asking God for, as much as they are designed for “cleaning” wrong beliefs and teachings out your thought patterns, your emotions, and your self-will. The Keys of the Kingdom are just keys. You could have a gorgeous Porsche and if you never used the key to start it, you would never go anywhere. If you had a beautiful mansion and you never used your key to get inside, you would never live in its splendor and beauty.

Question: If these prayer principles are so powerful, why do we have to pray them every day? Shouldn’t we be able to just pray them once?

Jason: Did you take a shower or a bath just once? Or, do you do it daily to get rid of the residue and stinkiness of the world? Did you just brush your teeth once? Or do you do it daily to get rid of the fur that seems to grow on them overnight? Does that mean your shower and your toothbrush are not powerful enough or that using them more than once means that you didn’t do the job right the first time?

Question: Am I being over cautious? Should I just read the prayers aloud, even if it feels “robotic?” Jason

You should strongly push yourself to believe that praying these prayers is the key to help you get your soul open to God, reveal where it has been holding you back, and loose the enemy’s works off yourself (see 1 John 3:8). He is always launching new and different works at you to keep you off balance. Binding and loosing prayers can help you stop worrying about what kind of “evil spirit” he might be sending as well as how to stop thinking that you have to yell and shout at him (which is totally ineffective). Those prayers help you learn how to pray with divine/supernatural power instead of the influence of your soul.

I hope this answers some of your questions. It is good for you to want to know more. Just don’t let your soul run a game on you that keeps you from taking apart its lies and deceptions and control structure that have kept you from breaking free.

She is an ordained minister with credentials from the Evangelical Church Alliance (P.O. Box 9, Bradley, Illinois 60915). Rev. Savard has served as a singles director, associate pastor, speaker, and Bible teacher. She is the author of Shattering Your Strongholds (1993 Bridge-Logos Pub.), Breaking the Power (1997 Bridge-Logos Pub.), Producing the Promise (1999 Bridge-Logos Pub.), and several mini-books and workbooks. With The Unsurrendered Soul (2002 Bridge-Logos Pub.), Apples of Gold in Baskets of Silver (2003 Bridge-Logos Pub.), and BEYOND Shattered Strongholds (2005 Bridge-Logos Pub.), she now has 14 books in print around the world.

This ministry believes the Scriptures are inspired of God, infallible, and fully authoritative for Christian faith and conduct. Jesus Christ, the Son of God, was born of a virgin, lived a sinless life on Earth, died on the cross in a substitutionary work of redemption for mankind, rose again and now sits at the right hand of the Father. Through Christ’s shed blood and renewal of the Holy Ghost, justified by grace through faith, man becomes an heir of God with absolute hope of eternal life.

This ministry teaches Christians how to cause their unsurrendered souls (old natures) to surrender to the will and purposes of God. LSM also teaches Christians how to loose emotional baggage from their souls to create room within themselves to receive all God has promised to them for today. This allows believers to fulfill their destinies while walking in knowledge and power to bring glory and honor to God the Father! This ministry also teaches God’s people how to pray with the Keys of the Kingdom (Matthew 16:19) to impact things on earth so they come into alignment with God’s already established will in heaven. This ministry is also dedicated to training Christians how to pray purely without “want lists” and instruction manuals for God (so He will know how best to answer their prayers!). Effective prayers with pure motives declare that God’s will shall be done on Earth as He has so set it in heaven.
