WORD FROM LIBERTY: Miracle Healing for Liberty's Heart!

For the last two years, I have been struggling with a damaged heart and congestive heart failure. This diagnosis included several ER trips, two ambulance rides, four hospital stays (one in the ICU), all kinds of tests including an electric shock cardio convert to reset my heart rate, and all kinds of medicine!

I had to cancel my speaking engagements and travel plans at the cardiologist's orders. People everywhere (or so it seemed, thank you) were praying and I was feeling a little sad that I might possibly be through with my ministry here on earth.

On Thursday, June 4th, 2009, I was called into my cardiologist's office for an echocardiogram (where you can watch a monitor and see your heart actually working). The following morning my cardiologist called me to say, "Well, the best possible thing has happened. Your heart muscle is healed and it is completely normal."

I asked him three or four times, "Are you sure?" He laughed and answered three times that he was sure. So I told him that God had healed my heart because people were praying. He agreed that prayer was always good. I am so grateful to all of you who prayed and believed with me for a miracle. I kept asking God for a new heart. I got one! I am thanking Him every day.

One very exciting aspect of this is that this miracle of God is documented with hospital records, ambulance records, every test in the book, and an echocardiogram record that refutes any disbelief that there hasn't been a major happening since I was first diagnosed two years ago! No one can ever say that God didn't do this! Again, I thank you so very, very much for all your prayers. They worked!

DISLODGING AND DECLARING PRAYER OUTREACH Update

The prayers for my health have been deeply impacted by the prayers of our DISLODGING AND DECLARING Intercessors around the world as well. Phase 1 of this prayer outreach began April 6, 2009 and we are now in Phase 4 which began July 6th. We have Intercessors from Africa, Argentina, Australia, Canada, England, Fiji, Guatemala, Netherlands, New Zealand, Ukraine (8 Intercessors), and the rest were in the US, including the Virgin Islands.

We have prayed with a pre-determined focus every Monday through Friday at 10:00 am PST (California), or as close as everyone can get according to their time zones. Monday's focus is world leaders (government, spiritual, academic, military, and law enforcement); Tuesday's focus is Israel; Wednesday's focus is our nation and nations around the world (especially those of the Intercessors); Thursday's focus is the harvest of the unsaved and backsliders as spoken of all through the Gospels (especially Luke 10:2); and Friday's focus is the personal prayer requests of the Intercessors.

We pray for each other each morning using Psalm 138:8 as the declaration of God where He said, "I will perform that which concerns you." The LSM Intercessor Team in Sacramento CA has called out the names of every Intercessor each Monday through Friday and declared Psalm 138:8 as we speak their names aloud. I update you on all this because I am convinced that this focus of prayer contributed greatly to the miracle of my new heart, as well as other testimonies and victories heard back from the other Intercessors.

There is tremendous power in agreement of right prayers: prayers prayed with humility and repentance, prayers prayed seeking the will of God, and prayers prayed that are completely devoid of personal judgment and ideas about what God should do. God so clearly said in 2 Chronicles 7:14 that if HIS people would humble themselves, pray, seek His face, and turn from THEIR wicked ways, then would He hear from heaven, forgive their sins, and heal their land.

As international situations have arisen, such as the two American women journalists in North Korea, the Iranian demonstrators and the Iranian Church, the burned children from Mexico, and other great needs around the world, the Intercessors have put their agreement behind those situations, too. God is good, He is always faithful to His Word, and right agreement always brings His power into situations.

New Binding and Loosing Prayer Manual FINISHED!

For several months, I have been writing a book that people have asked for over the past several years—a book of all the Keys of the Kingdom Prayers. I have always hesitated to do this because so many today are only interested in the easiest way possible to pray without understanding the principles and the process behind effective praying.

But I realized that I could teach the principles and the process of praying with the Keys of the Kingdom through a few paragraphs before each prayer section and I was so excited about that—at one point the book had grown to over 80,000 words (for comparison purposes, Shattering Your Strongholds is approximately 60,000 words).

There are future plans for this book including eBooks, but right now we have an exciting 8 ½x11 coil-bound version (160 8 1/2 x11 pages) with a gorgeous color cover by Kristine Cotterman of Exodus Design for $15. The first 50 binding and Loosing Prayer manuals that we have digitally printed will be autographed numbered First Editions.

Here are a few of the sixty-seven prayer sections (in addition to all of the usual Keys of the Kingdom prayers you have prayed from my books which have now been updated, i.e. Soul Ties, Forgiveness, Family Dynamics, etc.).

1. Backslidden and Unsaved (Prayers for)
2. Blessings (Declaring Them Over Others)
3. Change Can Be Positive and Powerful
4. Conscience, The (Prayers to Refresh and Renew Yours)
5. Decisions (Prayer Key to Making Right Ones)
6. Divorce (Overcoming Its Pain and Loss)
7. Faith (Prayers to Enhance) or Fear (Prayers to Shatter)
8. Finances
9. Food Addiction, Freedom From
10. Healing (Self Prayers and Prayers for Others)
11. Homosexuality (Self-Prayers and Prayers for Others)
12. Military (Prayers for the Troops and Their Families)
13. Obscene Phone Calls—Praying for the Callers
14. Passion for God and for Life at Any Age!
15. Pornography (Prayers for Self and Others)
16. Practicing Love
17. Praying and Declaring the Word of God
18. Relationships (Prayers for Right Ones and About the Wrong Ones)
19. Smoking (Overcoming)
20. Toxic Thinking (Dangerous but Changeable!)

21. Trust, Learning to
22. Word Curses (Breaking Their Effects Over Self and Others)

Here are a couple of examples of what you will find in the Binding and Loosing Prayer Manual:

BLESSINGS
(Declaring Them Over Others)

As God’s people we carry a great treasure within our earthen vessels. Second Corinthians 4:6-7 (KJV), “For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ. But we have this treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellency of the power may be of God, and not of us.” We must be ready to pour this great treasure out of ourselves and onto others. One way that we do this is to pronounce blessings on people by praying blessings upon them or by speaking blessings directly to them. To pray blessings upon people, pray this way:

Father, please bless _____ in his/her comings in and goings out today. Bless his/her rising up and sitting down today. Bless his/her families and finances and everything his/her hands touch today. I speak blessings of health and wisdom and favor over him/her. Most of all, please bless _____ with your love and a long and happy life of knowing you. Amen

One of the meanings of blessing someone is to confer prosperity and/or happiness upon them, to give favor to them, or to make them blissful or joyful. The Lord told Moses to tell Aaron to bless the people this way: Numbers 6:23-26 (Amplified), “This is the way you shall bless the Israelites. Say to them, The Lord bless you and watch, guard, and keep you; The Lord make His face to shine upon and enlighten you and be gracious (kind, merciful, and giving favor) to you; The Lord lift up His [approving] countenance upon you and give you peace (tranquility of heart and life continually).”

We should be speaking blessings to our children and to our loved ones and to those who need blessing and love today, but we are not. To speak blessings to someone, look him/her in the eye, touch him/her if it is appropriate, or just stand humbly before or beside him/her as you say:

“I bless you in the name of the Lord, and I speak all favor to you. I bless you and I ask that God will keep you and guide you and guard you all day long. I bless you in all that you will do today; I bless you in every conversation that you will have, and I bless your steps everywhere you travel today. I bless you in the name of the Lord.”

DIVORCE

(Overcoming Its Pain and Loss)

God's intent for marriage was a joining together of one man to one woman, creating a new entity of one flesh. To separate one flesh and tear it into two pieces in divorce gives an idea of the pain divorce can cause. Divorce is a sad thing for children and for entire families. Many people are not in a position of wholeness themselves to be able to explain and nurture their children's loss of family security. When children are involved, both parties have an obligation to spend a great deal of time with their children to nurture and listen to their pain while answering their questions with as much love and truth as possible. If there are children involved, they should be the number ONE priority of everyone involved in a marriage breakup.

Can people have a ministry after divorce and remarriage? God forgives divorce and can still fulfill His original purposes in the one who has been divorced, but there are human and moral complications. A person who has known the sadness and pain of being divorced can reach a position of healing with God so that they can then counsel others with great wisdom. If a person has filed for a divorce with the desire to be free to marry someone else, wrong motives and agendas are usually involved. This person's credibility is weakened when he or she is confronted by others who want a divorce instead of trying to work things out.

This does not mean that the person who wanted a divorce to marry another person cannot ever be in ministry. But it will be much harder for that person to move into God's plans in His timing in the right way because of human opinion and interference, as well as the condition of the divorced and remarried person's heart/soul. Humans outside the divorce may have religious, personal, or legalistic motivations behind their counsel to the parties involved. If you are divorced or in the proceedings of a divorce, get your counsel from God or from someone who has experience with having lived through a divorce to eventually come out the other side without any bitterness or anger or unforgiveness.

Here is a good guideline for whether or not a person is ready to minister again or even to remarry. It is easy to say you have forgiven your former spouse, but you can road test that statement this way: could you truthfully tell God that you are willing to do whatever He asks you to do for your former spouse, even sacrificing your own finances and dreams to help him/her achieve his/her dreams? You probably will not be asked by God to do that, but could you do it?

The very best thing you can do after a divorce is to put your plans for remarriage or for ministry on hold and seek God's face and His will as you dig into the Word and pray the binding and loosing prayers faithfully to root tiny hidden resentments and frustrations and big ugly bad feelings and unforgiveness from your soul. This will help you get closer to God and receive His healing and grace and mercy. Put everything else, except the welfare of your children, on hold.

Declare right now that you do not want to lose weeks, months, or even years of having to work through the hard consequences of wrong decisions made during or following a divorce because you did not wait for God's direction. Declare right now that you know you will grieve, but you want to be able to surrender that grief when God says it is time to pick up your oil of anointing and move on to where He tells you to go. Take a deep breath before you read the next sentence. Know that He may want you to stand for your marriage or, less often, He may not be asking you to stand for your marriage if that union was not His plans for you in the first place and your spouse truly wants out. Declare right now that you will not move ahead of Him but you will wait and delay any choices, decisions, or changes until He tells you to.

I Will Survive My Divorce—I Will Thrive in My Relationship with God

Lord, you know my feelings about this divorce. Right now whether I'm the one who wanted it, or if I'm the one who didn't want it, this is not the issue. What matters most is the condition of my soul. I now choose to pray the binding and loosing prayers about any defensiveness, resentment, or hardening that my heart has undergone. I know I cannot be healed, help anyone else, or move forward with you with a soul/heart filled with pain and neediness and questions. So I bind my will to your will, God. I declare that I know it is your will that I grieve only until you tell me to give it to you. I know it is your will that I open my wounds and needs to your healing, and that I release my questions that you may choose to answer or not.

Help me to be there twenty-five hours a day if necessary for my children. Let your love and your nurturing pour through me to them. Help me put a watch on my words so that I will not say one negative word before them or anyone else about my departed spouse or about the former days of our marriage. I ask that you guide and lead and heal my former spouse. I will forgive him/her for anything and everything that has ever hurt me. I ask that you help him/her to forgive me in the same manner for the same things.

I do not want to make him/her pay; I want to be healed. I do not want to get even; I want to be free. I want to become whole so that whatever he/she does from this day forward, it will not hurt or affect my feelings about him/her. I am determined to reach the point where I can truthfully and kindly ask you to bless, encourage, heal, and help my former spouse. You have said you will never leave me or forsake me and I am very grateful for that assurance. I will walk through this time, through the memories good and bad, and through the hard details of what I have undergone, what I must deal with today, and what may come tomorrow. Thank you that you are a God who forgives, who heals, and who always has a 100 percent fresh “start over” for each one of us so that we can fulfill our destiny in you. Hold me close and heal me. I love you, in Jesus’ Name, Amen

Excellent Devotional from Spurgeon’s Daily Devotions – Paraphrased and Condensed by Liberty

Revelation 22:17 (KJV), “And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely.”

Jesus says to take freely. He wants no payment or recommendation from our emotions. If you have no good feelings but you are willing, you are invited; therefore come! If you have no belief and no repentance, come to Him, and He will give them to you. Come just as you are, and take freely without money and without price. He gives Himself to needy ones. The drinking fountains at the corners of our streets are certainly appreciated. But we can hardly imagine anyone so foolish as to reach for his purse when he stands before one of them, crying, “I cannot drink because I have no money in my pocket.” However poor the man is, there is the fountain, and just as he is he may drink of it. Thirsty passengers, as they go by, whether they are fancy dressed or dressed in rags take freely of the water, asking no questions. The only people who might go thirsty on the street where there is a drinking fountain are those in limousines who may be very thirsty, but they cannot imagine subjecting themselves to getting a drink from a water fountain in the street. It would be too embarrassing for them to drink at this common fountain: so they ride on by pretending they don’t see or need anything to soothe their parched lips.

There are many who are rich in their own good works and therefore do not think they need to come to Christ! They have no desire to be saved in the same way as a drug addict or a janitor or a gardener or a gang member might be saved. They think, “Is there no pathway to glory except the path which led the thief there? I will not be saved that way.” And they remain without any water of life to drink. Yet Jesus earnestly said with clarity and love, “Whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely.”

New Keys of the Kingdom Prayer Songs!

A talented young lady came to one of our meetings in Michigan in 2007 and asked if she could sing me a song she had written. She has since begun to write songs (I requested that the first few would be good for singing by groups) for this message. The first one is available for free download, Toxic Waste by Angel Cody, on www.libertysavard2u.com. Several more songs are almost finished. These are upbeat songs that are easy to remember and sing. Singing is a great learning and teaching principle.

Please Pray for Liberty Attending Professional Writer’s Conference in Philadelphia in August 2009

I am so excited to be getting my health and strength back so I was able to accept a scholarship to the Greater Philadelphia Christian Writers Conference August 6-8, 2009 at Philadelphia Biblical University. If any of you are serious about a real writing career, I can enthusiastically recommend this conference. I attended this conference a few years ago before I became sick and have always wanted to go back. This will be my first trip since God healed my heart the first week of June. I would appreciate your prayers. It would also be great to see you there (I’ll be the 6-foot tall one!).

Shattering Your Strongholds Being Translated Into Russian by Intercessor from the Ukraine

Over two years ago a lovely lady from the Ukraine, Zoya, asked me about translating Shattering Your Strongholds into Russian. She was already teaching the principles to many in her church. My publisher put this on a shelf at that time. Zoya and I reconnected through the DISLODGING AND DECLARING PRAYER OUTREACH that we started the first week of April this year. She is now translating Shattering for a free eBook and possibly a print book, too. We would appreciate your prayers for this project.

Questions and Answers

I am a pastor's wife, married over 30 years, and I have just begun to read your book shattering Your Strongholds. My! What a resource of knowledge! I am on my knees and going over my life, beliefs, and mind with a fine toothed comb. There are many difficult issues I have had to struggle with over the past three decades with my husband's hard beliefs and stands on women. As I read SYS, I can't help but see him in some of your writings. (As I'm sure you understand, we are all in my writings, Liberty). He has erected stronghold thinking around erroneous biblical teaching heard as a child, and he has walls of distrust and fear.

We are from an extremely legalistic denominational background, but since 2000 we have disaffiliated ourselves from it. There was much teaching about women's rebellion in cutting their hair and how they were dressing. My husband still is extremely distrusting of women, but is able to hide it to everyone but me. Our sons are the same. I have hurt and grieved and believed there was no hope for this belief.

I had almost given up hope until I read your book and looked online about soul ties. My husband had a sexual relationship with a young woman as a teen ager before we were married. Please explain the extent of soul ties in this situation. (Fornication certainly is a wrong agreement between two people with an expected mutual benefit. If he is unaware of the soul ties and has done nothing to break them with this former sexual partner, they are probably still there. The tie(s) may be dormant at this time, but the right circumstances could bring them back "online" in his thought life, Liberty).

Is it possible for me to pray to break soul ties in his life? (No, only those in the ties can break them. But you can bind his mind to the mind of Christ and loose the wrong patterns of thinking that led to the fornication agreement, Liberty).

I want to shatter my stronghold thinking for my own mental and spiritual health, but I feel so extremely desperate, angry, and hopeless. This has gone on for generations and I am so tired of it. Please help me. (It is very important to understand that these principles will not necessary make things become what you wish or want or think they should be. The answers will be according to God's best for everyone. Pray the binding and loosing prayers for yourself every day before you pray for anyone else. Remember what they say to you on airplanes: if the oxygen mask drops from the ceiling, put it on yourself before you try to help anyone else. If you pass out, you're no help to anyone.

Keep your prayers backed up and reinforced with reading and meditating on the Word every day. Seek God every day, rather than focusing upon looking for changes in your family. I am constantly trying to get people to see that if you get things in right order in your soul, the symptoms and other issues will be resolved. It won't do any good to keep trying to kill flies if you don't deal with the holes in your window screens. You can kill flies all day long, and they will keep coming through the holes. You have to deal with the holes.

Keep praying the binding and loosing prayers for yourself every day with focus and belief that they are going to change your mind sets, religious bondage thinking, stronghold thinking, and the effects and influences of wrong agreements that you have made or that have impacted your life. Always pray the binding prayers first.

As you pray for your husband and sons, keep your prayers pretty simple: bind their wills to God's will, their minds to the mind of Christ, and their emotions and emotional reactions to the healing balance and control of the Holy Spirit. Loose the effects and influences of wrong agreements from them and loose cultural bondage thinking and religious bondage thinking from them. Loose the works of the enemy from them; see 1 John 3:8. Let me know how things are going. I prayed for all of you today. Liberty)

Testimonies

Liberty: Just read your e-mail regarding the physical healing of your heart and I am so pleased to hear it!!! Praise God for His goodness to us!! He hears us!! I am continuing on with daily prayers and glad to be part of it. Thank you for your Pastor's heart towards us all in the DISLODGING AND DECLARING PRAYER OUTREACH. You are a real blessing to the Body of Christ. Thank you for your prayers for us, they have been much appreciated. Feeling quite emotional about this at the moment!! Bridget

WHAT CAN I SAY? I feel like your message has saved me from the depths of complete hopelessness and despair. Thank you so much for reaching out, for thinking of me, and for going the extra mile to help. You are the only one who has and I've been searching for help for a very long time. I so enjoyed reading Breaking the Power. It is a profound reading experience, and I am absolutely hooked on every word. With your help and these words below, I know I can overcome my food addiction once and for all with no fancy gimmicks and no getting up at 5:30 am to do personal training (that has never worked). Liberty, I finally feel there is hope.

So many people have no clue why they are still struggling and don't know that these Keys will unlock and release their pain. You have a way with words. Your books are straight to the point and incredibly accurate—like you have known me all my life! Dawn

Liberty, I am praying and I believe there is more power in the prayer of agreement. I do have your book on Strongholds and I just got the DVDS on the Unsundered Soul along with other material. I have gained much knowledge and insight by your books. Thank you for praying and may you continue to be enlightened by the Holy Spirit to the ways of God's Kingdom. Blessings!!! Sherry

Dear Liberty: Thank you so much for the prayers and the Scriptures. I have your book Shattering Your Strongholds. I used to pray those prayers and make those confessions over myself and my husband, Richard (a Christian). We were doing fine; his depression was controlled; and then the doctor switched him to Prozac and he began having Prozac symptoms. He got up in the middle of the night, went outside, and had some sort of hallucination. I think it was an accident that he pulled the trigger and killed himself. I have an assurance that he is with Jesus. It still hurts that he is gone, and I still miss him, but the pain is getting less. The prayers and the scriptures have helped. Thanks, Ann

Bless your heart, Ann; I am so sorry for your great loss. Many teach that there is no forgiveness for those who commit suicide and they are lost. I DO NOT BELIEVE THIS. No one knows the final exchange between Christ and the one who has chosen to end his/her life as a way out of the pain they have not known how to let Him fix. No one here knows, but Jesus and the Father know!

You have great hope to believe that your husband asked Christ for forgiveness and mercy, if only a nanosecond, before he pulled the trigger. Hold on to that hope and don't let anyone's religious thinking take it from you. Please let me know how you are doing from time to time. Love, Liberty

Oh, how I love those verses in Isaiah 55 which you mentioned in one of the manuscripts. "For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the LORD. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts" (vss 8, 9). On one of the heaviest days I have ever experienced, you sent me the email asking if I could help with some proofreading. I agreed. As I went through the manuscripts, I was deeply ministered to by the Lord. It came at just the right time. Now I know you didn't send me the MSS for my benefit, but the Lord in His infinite wisdom knew I needed to see what was in them again. The timing was such that it had to be the Lord orchestrating the whole thing. Thanks for being sensitive. Bless you, Dennis

DJ: Thank you for making my day brighter by knowing that sometimes I still just stumble into His will without a clue. He is so gracious and kind. My assistant/office manager and I prayed for you and your wife today. Be encouraged, you are both vital to His Kingdom work in many ways. Give your wife my love and best wishes. Please bless her and Dennis, God.

Thank you, Liberty, for praying for me. Your prayers are powerful and I'm already feeling better. I've prayed the prayers in Breaking the Power, and your books and kind words have given me tremendous hope again. I'm starting Breaking the Power from scratch! Nobody has EVER told the story about Jonathan and David in such a clear fashion to explain the implications of unhealthy soul ties. W., S. Africa

I came across your book Breaking the Power and since reading it, strongholds have been surfacing like trash in water—things I ignored or didn't realize were due to unmet needs are coming out. I am binding my will to God's will and everyday I notice those things that once had a grip on me are being broken. Praise God! I have been sharing bits and pieces of your book with friends and family and they are going to purchase the book. I'm also going to purchase some books to give away. It's amazing how my spiritual eyes have been opened since reading your book. I've seen God move as my faith keeps growing. This is what I've always needed; thank you for allowing God to use you. Jason

I read your first book years ago and applied the principles with so many amazing results in all areas of my life. I stopped praying the prayers about six years ago when I got married and moved to a new area. During those years I was really in a spiritual desert or wilderness and close to a deep depression. It is during this time of desperation that I clearly heard the Lord telling me two things.

1. To praise and worship Him and
2. Go back to basics.

What basics, Lord? He reminded me of the Keys of the Kingdom principles of binding and loosing as taught by you. I read through my old copy of Shattering your Strongholds again and started praying these prayers about two years ago. Not only did I see changes in my husband, myself, our relationship, and situations, but also in my four rebellious step-children and daughter-in-law. These five young adults came to the Lord one after the other.

We also saw a great miracle take place when my sister's daughter broke her back in several places and the doctors said she would never walk again. Ten days after the accident (much prayer) she walked out of the hospital with any support at all. God is great! I could give you testimony after testimony since I began using the Keys in prayer again.

I have bought most of your books and have read them all more than once. Wherever I go I tell people about these principles and urge them to apply them to their own lives. Sad to say however, few people grasp it or they are so used to carrying so much hurt and bitterness, they pray the prayers a few times and give up. I have learned not to give up and I persevere with these prayers. Thank you for being obedient to God's revelation and sharing this with us. We rejoice with you about your healing. CDL, South Africa

Dear Liberty: My name is Nipa and I am a Tongan. I wanted to share with you how excited I am to come across your book Shattering Your Strongholds. I am a born-again believer for seven years now, but I have backslidden many times. This year has been a challenge for me as I've been praying, fasting, attending church programs and all those church goings, but my old nature has still been hindering me from going forward with God.

Two weeks ago I decided I was at the end of hoping I could walk this kind of life as a Christian, but I have these friends who kept on encouraging me not to give up. Then one lady (a prayer warrior in our church) gave me your book Shattering Your Strongholds on Thursday of last week.

I started reading, and I was so shocked. Everything you shared, I see myself there, too. I put into practice everything that I read in your book as I believe this is God's reaching out to me through your book. I could see how much I needed to loose all the wrong patterns of my old nature. I just want to write to thank you for your inspirational books; I'm still in the progress of reading them.

Whenever I hear my family shouting and arguing with each other, I start praying the Binding and Loosing Prayers and suddenly I hear them apologizing to each other, and I start laughing because of how effective the Keys of the Kingdom are. This message is really a spiritual eye opener to my inner man, opening up those deep secrets that have been hidden in me for so many years.

I have this urge in my heart to become a counselor to help those who are struggling and in need, mostly when I see my loved ones suffer. When I came across your books, I thanked God that He/s in the progress of equipping me for His plan and His purpose for my life regardless of everything else.

I am so happy to find your e-mail address so that I could write to you to thank you! I can't thank you and God enough, and I believe that when I'm done with reading all of your books and practicing what you say, I'll be a totally free woman to serve God in wholeness and God's freedom. I pray God will continue to establish His will and purpose in your life as you continue to do accomplish them by the help of His Holy Spirit! Nipa

Several years ago I obtained a copy of your book Shattering Your Strongholds (it was being discarded by someone who had never read it) and immediately felt connected. I have been following your ministry ever since, praying for you and your ministry. I am hoping to purchase the long distance training course soon.

After applying your teaching in Shattering Your Strongholds, over the past few years my daughter has been delivered from mental illness where she had been locked up in a mental hospital as a ward of the state for a period of time. She is now an A student in college. My son was delivered from a horrible drug addiction that almost completely destroyed him after using prescription drugs to relieve constant pain from four shoulder surgeries. He is now a 4.0 graduate student.

I have applied your teaching of our ability to totally disrupt Satan's entire program in someone else's life, and I have witnessed miraculous and miraculous physical healings of seemingly hopeless conditions. There are too many to try to list here!! Some day I hope to meet you and thank you in person for your perseverance and dedication in getting this message out. God Bless you!! MN in DC

Who and What is LIBERTY SAVARD MINISTRIES?

She is the author of Shattering Your Strongholds (1993 Bridge-Logos Pub.), Breaking the Power (1997 Bridge-Logos Pub.), Producing the Promise (1999 Bridge-Logos Pub.), and several mini-books and workbooks. With The Unsundered Soul (2002 Bridge-Logos Pub.), Apples of Gold in Baskets of Silver (2003 Bridge-Logos Pub.), and BEYOND Shattered Strongholds (2005 Bridge-Logos Pub.), she now has 14 books in print around the world.

This ministry believes the Scriptures are inspired of God, infallible, and fully authoritative for Christian faith and conduct. Jesus Christ, the Son of God, was born of a virgin, lived a sinless life on Earth, died on the cross in a substitutionary work of redemption for mankind, rose again and now sits at the right hand of the Father. Through Christ's shed blood and renewal of the Holy Ghost, justified by grace through faith, man becomes an heir of God with absolute hope of eternal life.

This ministry teaches Christians how to cause their unsundered souls (old natures) to surrender to the will and purposes of God. LSM also teaches Christians how to loose emotional baggage from their souls to create room within themselves to receive all God has promised to them for today. This allows believers to fulfill their destinies while walking in knowledge and power to bring glory and honor to God the Father! This ministry also teaches God's people how to pray with the Keys of the Kingdom (Matthew 16:19) to impact things on earth so they come into alignment with God's already established will in heaven. This ministry is also dedicated to training Christians how to pray purely without "want lists" and instruction manuals for God (so He will know how best to answer their prayers!). Effective prayers with pure motives declare that God's will shall be done on Earth as He has so set it in heaven.
