Perhaps You Need to Make Some Adjustments

Adjust: To change so as to match or fit; cause to correspond. 2. To bring into proper relationship.

How we need to come into proper relationship with God; He does not need to adjust His idea of a good relationship to us. He knew exactly what He was doing when He chose the standards of relationship for us as a family and as each specific individual of that family.

Soberly consider this verse: “The eyes of the Lord are upon the righteous—those who are upright and in right standing with God—and His ears are attentive to their prayer. But the face of the Lord is against those who practice evil—to oppose them, to frustrate and defeat them” (1 Peter 3:12, Amplified).

Thayer’s Greek-English Lexicon of the New Testament describes the Greek word translated here as evil to be a mode of thinking which does not just mean bad feelings that mushroom into hatred. This really includes grumbling, impatience, negative remarks, being snippy, dirty looks, and personal goals that have nothing to do with God’s plans.

What if you combined more of your personal understanding of the glorious creation of man in order to make adjusting to God more complete? Would that make your life more complicated or would it allow God’s relationship to you to grow?

Second Peter 1:3-9 (NIV) tells us that:

3 His divine power has given us everything we need for life and godliness through our knowledge of him who called us by his own glory and goodness.

The Message tells us in 2 Peter 1:

5 So don’t lose a minute in building on what you’ve been given, complementing your basic faith with good character, spiritual understanding,

6 alert discipline, passionate patience, reverent wonder, 7 warm friendliness, and generous love, each dimension fitting into and developing the others.

8 With these qualities active and growing in your lives, no grass will grow under your feet, no day will pass without its reward as you mature in your experience of our Master Jesus.

You don’t learn how to make these qualities work for you. You learn how to adjust your life to them.

In the same passage, The New International Version speaks of adding these things to your faith:

goodness
knowledge
self-control perseverance
godliness brotherly kindness and love

8 For if you possess these qualities in increasing measure, they will keep you from being ineffective and unproductive in your knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

9 If anyone does not have them, he is nearsighted and blind.

You reconcile your way of thinking and acting to God’s Scripture to receive complete favor with God. Part of this occurs as we are transformed by the renewing (renovation) of our minds (Romans 12:2). Webster's Dictionary says that renew means to:

1. restore
2. rebuild
3. reestablish
4. renovate

These are so much better than the ugly UN words that mean we have chosen to feel:

1. unhappy
2. unworthy
3. unable
4. unfinished

What happens first on the site of any major renovation or restoration? The old has to be removed and a proper foundation has to be built. Only then can a real renewal part of a restoration begin. The old things in your mind, will, and emotions also have to be removed to make room for your divine renewal to begin. These are the adjustments you must make. God will not do that for you. If you do not adjust to His leading, you will frequently find yourself in the ditch or clinging to a cliff side. You must be willing to adjust yourself to Him and His standards to travel a strong, forward leaning journey.

You can do this through the loosing prayers. The word loose in Matthew 16:19 also means to break up, tear apart, dissolve, and destroy. Tearing out and destroying old, useless waste makes room for the new and the miraculous! It means adjusting yourself to a better set of standards by getting rid of old mind sets and useless, tired out ideas.

Our every thought, word spoken, and action or step taken are important right now; but that does not mean we are walking as if on a tight rope over a great chasm. We are not being left to figure out exactly what we should say and do. God is always fine-tuning our journey with Him in ways we are not even aware of yet. He is always ready to guide our every thought, word, action, and step from minute to minute as we adjust to Him.

The Lord has lifted up His countenance upon thee! This alludes to the smiles of a father upon his child, or of a man upon his friend in whom he takes pleasure. If God gives us the assurances of His special favor and His acceptance of us, this should put gladness and purpose into (our hearts).

I'm hanging out with the Apostle Peter lately a lot. First Peter 3:8-17 (The Message) gives an excellent prayer/declaration to help you get tuned up every day for adjusting your attitude for the day (taken in part from the January newsletter:

8 Be agreeable, be sympathetic, be loving, be compassionate, be humble. (Lord, today I am going to choose to be agreeable, sympathetic, loving, compassionate, and humble. Tweak me, Holy Spirit, if I wander away from this choice.)

9 That goes for all of you, no exceptions. No retaliation. No sharp-tongued sarcasm. Instead, bless—that's your job, to bless. You'll be a blessing and also get a blessing. (Lord, today I will not retaliate to other peoples' bad words or attitudes; I will bless them with patience and compassion and the offering of my understanding.)

10 Whoever wants to embrace life and see the day fill up with good, here's what you do: Say nothing evil or hurtful; (Lord, today I will say nothing evil or hurtful. If I fail in this choice, I ask for a check from the Holy Spirit and I will return and seek forgiveness in humble humility.)

11 Snub evil and cultivate good; run after peace for all you're worth. (Lord, today I will seek to do good wherever it does not seem to exist and I will pray for and gently offer words of peace to those who will be receive them.)

12 God looks on all this with approval, listening and responding well to what he's asked; but he turns his back on those who do evil things. (Lord, today I am asking only for myself that I will have your help in helping others to see you.)

13 If with heart and soul you're doing good, do you think you can be stopped? (Lord, today I am going to believe that the road of opportunity to be a blessing and a help to others will be open and clear and I won't be stopped or hindered. If it seems to be clogged up, I'll stop and look around at what I might be missing right where I am.)

16 Keep a clear conscience before God so that when people throw mud at you, none of it will stick. They'll end up realizing that they're the ones who need a bath. (Lord, today I'll wear my Silicone clothes and headgear, which a clear conscience will allow me to wear. I'll hold the towels and offer pure soap to anyone who needs forgiveness and washing of themselves.)

Then pray this prayer: Lord, I bind my will to you, my mind to the mind of Christ, and my emotions to the healing balance and comfort of the Holy Spirit. I loose, smash, crush, and destroy all of my stronghold thinking: my excuses and justification and denial of why I might try to say I cannot be and do what you want. I can do all things through Jesus Christ which strengthens me! I choose to look at today and the days ahead with the expectation of seeing your strong arm and your power moving in the world. I am never stronger than when I am adjusting to you.

Please protect and heal the children of the world, give food and shelter to the homeless and the orphans, draw the unsaved, the unloved, the scarred, and the wounded to yourself. I will work in the final harvest however you want. Thank you for your love and care and concern for me and my loved ones. Amen

Using Some of Your Natural Senses and Combining Them with Binding & Loosing Prayers

In order to find Truth in the words of Scripture, a disassociation from “tradition-think” is required - a separation from the traditions of man even in the Church world sometimes is needed.

Lately I have been reading from Dr. John Arden’s book Rewire Your Brain. Surely God had some plans for such a powerful resource as our brain. The brain is the control center of the whole body. Does it make sense that God would want us to turn off the full natural control of our bodies when we pray or is there some way to adjust our behaviors to our prayers?

For instance, there are several kinds of wrong thinking that we all get ourselves into as bad habits. We begin to view ourselves and the people around us in a wrong way. Praying can get all mixed up when we’re thinking wrong. For instance, STOP thinking of or responding to God, to yourself, and to others in the following manners:

Polarized thinking is seeing your own or everyone else’s actions, behaviors, or words as black and white or good or bad. See them as being as works in progress; clay still being molded. You have just run into a hard spot in their clay or your own which hasn’t been worked out by God yet. Your view of them should not be hard wired or experientially wired. It should be adjusted to God’s ideas.

Overgeneralized thinking takes an experience of a single bad circumstance and wants to apply it to your whole life. It can cross over with some Polarized thinking. Don’t over-generalize any words or actions of yourself or of any other person and expect them every time.

Personalized thinking sees and interprets every action or word by another as a personal reflection on you. Imagine if God thought that way about you!

Mind reading assumes that you know what a person meant or what they were thinking in spite of what they say or what they do.

Rule bending is making rigid rules and expecting everyone else to comply with your standards and ideas. When they don’t, Personalized thinking kicks into play.

Here is a binding and loosing prayer that combines use of natural senses to apply personal, emotional brakes to wrong thinking and adjust to God’s thinking.

Dear Lord: I don’t want to make assumptions about others, especially when they could perpetuate my negative thinking as well as frustration and hardheadedness on the part of others. They may be open to changing their stubborn stances if I change mine.

I bind myself and the other person or persons’ will to your will. I bind their minds and mine to the mind of Christ. I will study the list of wrong thinking above and try to change the way I perceive God, perceive others, and perceive my own life. I am open to adjustments that you suggest to me, Lord.

I will learn to think in shades of God instead of black and white. I will adjust to how you view each one of us. I will bind my will to your will with an open mind as to what that means rather than will it give me my wants and desires. I will loose wrong ideas and wrong attitudes to make room for adjustments of my thinking. Amen

Be sure that you are seeing things in a proper context of an actual situation instead of your thinking. You and I have allowed ourselves to see things as hard wired; “that is just the way it is,” we think. We begin to experience all circumstances, even similar circumstances, as “that is just the way it is.” Wrong! Adjust your thinking to shades of God; begin to see Him wanting you to see things more His way.

GPS for the SOUL started out as a combination form of my former mini books, Keys to Understanding (no longer in print), but it grew and grew until it became its own big book. I had great fun writing it. I hope you will enjoy reading it, too. It should be published and ready to ship sometime late in February. However, the PDF version is ready to buy right now. I am asking that everyone please honor my copyrights (existing and pending) so that I can get the books out in this new format.

From what I have been told, PDFs can be read on Kindle and other electronic book readers, as well as the new Droids and some of the other Smart Phones. How exciting! Those of you with Kindles and Droids who order these PDF copies of my new books, please report back so I can verify all the different versions.

Liberty's Other Newest Book THE OLD BROWN ROCKER is Now Available in PDF Version Right Now!

This is a children's fiction story that I have written over the past 24 years, and is probably categorized as most appropriate for middle readers, 8-10. But this book is for adults, too. It is about one-fourth the size of Shattering Your Strongholds (11,000 words). This is the story of a nine-year-old girl, Leah, who lives with her widowed mother, Denise. Leah's beloved grandmother is dying in a hospital.

Not knowing that her grandmother instructed Denise to sell her house, find a home for her old dog, and take her furniture to Good Will, Leah blames her mother for getting rid of all her grandmother's possessions. Not having been told that her grandmother is dying, Leah keeps grieving and worrying about what her grandmother will do when she comes home and everything she loved is gone. This is a book that will help families talk to children about losing a loved one, and how Christians don't really ever lose each other through death since they all come back together in Heaven.

Publication plans and cover designs are all still in the planning stage right now, but the manuscript is ready to sell in a PDF version by return e-mail as The Old Brown Rocker.

Update on Liberty's Health Condition
POST-Smallish Stroke

Many of you keep writing or e-mailing and wanting to know how I am doing. That always deeply touches me. I am home and a Bible School student is staying with me most of the time. I am "adjusting" to whatever God is asking of me. At least I'm trying to. I still have a little trouble with fine motor skills regarding typing, but my mind is fairly sharp. I keep practicing using my typing as often as I can. I've been working on this newsletter longer than a week.

I struggle with discouragement and a desire to ask, "Why me?" Perhaps I struggle with a little depression, too. But I remember that many of you are praying regularly for me, so I just try to keep focused on the Lord. I also remember to thank God for the many blessings that I do have. Many seem to have a lot less, but they are moving as steadily forward as they can.

Many of you have sent gifts, donations, and cards. Or, you have called my message voice-mail line. Thank you so much!

Questions and Answers

Liberty: My husband and I are at the brink of breaking up 16 years of marriage. My husband has a real bad temper and rebellious attitudes. He has been chasing after women. I have just had enough heart aches. He doesn't see anything wrong with his thinking. He is right now back in his country Bolivia gone on trips with women. And I am so angry about this, I feel like just get a divorce!!!

This is not the first time. It's been like this for some time. This was his father's lifestyle. I don't even know what to pray for him anymore. I don't know what to say.

I got one of your DVDs from my church and I feel this might be my last hope. Please pray for me and Joe. He's coming back home this Sunday. I don't even know what I will say or do to him. God help me. I really need to get hold of your books to show me how to pray. My husband acts strange.

He's a slave to pleasing the public and becomes real critical and gets angry for the smallest meaningless things I do or say. Please show me how to pray about this situation. Thank you, D

Dear Sister: I am sorry that you are suffering with this. You did not say if there were children involved. If so, they are suffering, too. You must take care of yourself and any children involved. Let God deal with Joe. Stop tearing yourself up over that. He is getting in God's face right now. When he comes home Sunday, tell him as calmly as you can that you cannot deal with the situation and that you are seeing your pastor or spiritual leader about it. I would counsel you not to sleep with him. You will not change his behavior; you would only be suggesting that you are unwilling to tolerate such behavior. Below is a short article and some prayers out of the Binding and Loosing Prayer Manual for you to pray:

MARRIAGE (Self-Prayers and Prayer for Others)

Marriage is a covenant instituted by God that has no expiration date. This divine covenant involves a man and a woman choosing to enter into, to respect, and to keep the promises of that covenant as long as they both shall live. The ongoing hardness of hearts since Moses' day has caused us to lose sight of the seriousness of that promise.

Some marriages are entered into today with a back-door clause in the minds of the man and woman that if it doesn't work, they can just bail out. Some marriages are entered into with expectations that one spouse should meet the other spouse's unmet needs, fix his/her unhealed hurts, and resolve his/her unresolved issues. This is far too much pressure to put upon any human being and a spouse can become bitter and resentful when such expectations are not met.

When I am asked for advice on pending marriages, I always urge potential brides and grooms to read the Word of God every day and to spend time praying the binding and loosing prayers every day. When these two things are faithfully done, the doors begin to open to mental and emotional healing from God.

How wonderful marriages would be if both parties were healed and whole (or at least solidly in the middle of undergoing God's healing of their minds and emotions) before they became one in marriage.

How beautiful marriages would be if two mentally and emotionally healed people (or people solidly in the middle of the process of being healed by God) were ready to bless and be blessed in a marriage with Christ at the center. These men and women would not be looking to each other to fix a lifetime of unmet needs and unhealed hurts. They would be looking for ways to bless each other and to bless God, thereby automatically opening doors to great blessing in their lives.

Many are battling tremendous odds against their marriages today. Some have seen their spouses walk out on family responsibilities and the covenant promises of marriage. In some cases, third parties are involved. In other cases, a spouse may just want out of the marriage and family responsibilities. Spouses who are left behind can become trapped in a cycle of desperate despair, anger, fear, and frantic pleading with God to forcibly bring the absent spouse back. This cycle is a trap causing serious neglect to his/her relationship with the Lord and his/her own healing.

If this is you, please commit your spouse to God according to the following prayer. Then focus your prayers upon strengthening your children's and your own relationship with God. He is the only one who can change your situation. He will comfort and care for your children, but He may want to change both you and your spouse so He can work with you to develop right beliefs and better attitudes about each other and Him. You cannot change your missing spouse, but you can begin to cooperate with God through the binding and loosing prayers to change yourself. Cooperate with receiving His healing and leave His plans for your marriage strictly up to Him.

If you are desiring to get married, A Mate – Prayer and Preparation for God's Perfect Choice will help you understand how to open up and surrender your unmet needs and unhealed hurts to God for healing instead of expecting a spouse to meet them. If you are married and your marriage needs a refreshing and a healing from God, pray the following prayer. You can also change the pronouns in each one.

Prayer for Refreshing and Healing for Husbands and Wives
I bind myself to your will, God, and I loose wrong expectations I've had that my mate should meet my needs, heal my hurts, and resolve my unresolved issues.

Only you can fill me with unconditional love, meet my needs, heal my hurts, and answer my deepest questions. Forgive me for allowing my expectations of my spouse to cause me to ignore you and place him/her at the center of my marriage.

Please fill my spouse with your unconditional love as you meet his/her needs, heal his/her hurts, and resolve his/her issues and unanswered questions. I bind myself and my spouse to your will and purposes for our lives, to your truth, to your plans for each of us, and to the paths you have always ordained for us to walk. I bind my thoughts to the mind of Christ, and I choose to declare that my marriage is in your hands, Jesus, and that I cannot think of any better place for it to be!

Help me realize that I am not strong enough, smart enough, or brave enough in my own power to properly deal with the problems in my marriage. Only by using your divine weapons, Lord, can I destroy the stronghold thinking that my soul has built around and layered over my own vulnerabilities. I loose self-limiting thought patterns and the effects and influences of wrong agreements from my soul and from my spouse's soul.

I know my soul wants to drag my unmet needs, unhealed hurts, and unresolved issues into every conversation or argument I have with my spouse. Help me to immediately bind my mind to the mind of Christ when I want to do this. I will protect my spouse's failings and cover him/her with love, never talking to others about the intimate details of what we are dealing with. Grave clothes can be hung upon me and my spouse if I share the negative details of our struggles. I want to share the details only with you, for you alone know the real intent of my heart. Amen

Loosing Outside Influences from Marriages

I loose the effects and influences of all wrong agreements from myself, from my spouse, and from any person who has been or is any part of our marriage struggles (ex-spouses, stepchildren, in-laws, children, or other relationships). I loose the effects and influences of wrong agreements with other people who want to interfere in our lives in any way. I loose the effects and influences of any wrong agreements anyone has made with my spouse regarding his/her feelings. Whether I feel I have not been understood and appreciated is not the issue if I want to stop the enemy from making everything worse. And I do, Lord! The enemy's involvement will only be intensified and perpetuated by wrong agreements I want to make with others about how I've been wronged, hurt, and disappointed. Seeking wrong agreements with others to comfort my soul will only interfere with your work of grace and mercy in my life, and such agreements will never de-victimize and heal me. I loose, smash, crush and destroy soul ties between myself and my spouse, and between myself and any other person.

Help me to only speak what I hear from you and check me if I try to fix things that you have not called me to resolve. You can handle anything that comes up, Lord, if I will just let you. I loose generational-bondage thinking from my soul and my spouse's soul. Teach us both how to come into right agreements about our unresolved issues and to stop looking backward and go forward. Thank you, Lord. Amen

Marriage Partners Missing

Lord, my spouse has turned away from his/her promise to love and honor me and our covenant promises before you until death do us part. I am hurting and unsure why this has happened. I accept that I cannot make my spouse come back, and I accept that you won't make him/her come back as long as he/she continues to feel and think the way he/she does.

If my spouse and I do not both change, our relationship will not get better. We both need to cooperate with you so that you can begin to heal us. I bind my spouse to you, Lord—body, soul, and spirit. I bind his/her will to your will, his/her mind to the mind of Christ, and his/her emotions to the healing balance of the Holy Spirit. I bind him/her to the truth of your Word. I am turning to you for healing and for help to let you work where I cannot.

I cannot go back, I don't want to stay where I am, and I need you to show me how to go forward in a positive manner. When the world closes in on me, let me remember to do what Jesus did at such times. He would slip away and find a quiet place to pray. This is the only true and right response I can have when I'm pushed beyond my finite limits. I will trust you to keep him/her safe. I'm committing this to you, Lord, and asking you to work out the details. Help me to keep growing and learning more of your love and leaving the timing of your answers to you. Amen

Parent Missing and Children Hurting

Lord, I'm doing my best to hold onto your hand during this difficult time of living without my spouse. Help me to focus now upon the fears and hurts that my children are experiencing; help me to comfort and assure them that you love us and that you are working things out for everyone during this hard time. Help me to keep from saying negative things about my children's missing father/mother. I bind my children to your will and to the mind of Christ. Please pour your grace and mercy out upon them every day.

If my children are not with me and I do not have them to hug and hold and comfort every day, I will hold onto you and trust you to comfort them and keep them safe. If I am the non-custodial parent at this time, I can only wait until you change things. Please help my children get through this time of separation without permanent scars to their souls. When they are with me, help me to love them unconditionally and to answer their hard questions with love and truth. I loose all wrong thoughts, wrong words, and wrong agreements that they might be hearing about me and I ask you to show them the truth.

Please do not let my children become casualties of the hard differences between me and my spouse. Please do not let me or my spouse become casualties of divorce. I am asking for your divine help so that I will keep a positive outlook and speak a good word about everyone in this family. I choose to refuse to speak wrong words about relatives or friends who seem to be taking sides. I will speak blessing and grace about and to all. Thank you, Amen

Testimonies

Dearest Liberty: I came back from a rescue mission internship last year, and heard from a friend during the Spring this year. She told me she bought Shattering Your Strongholds & Breaking the Power since I let her read your books before I went to the mission. I've been witnessing and encouraging her ever since I met her in the Christian bookstore I worked with years ago. She kept on telling me how grateful she is to God for my friendship, and for your books that helped overcome major issues in her life, and is so encouraged. She is cheerful, beaming with hope for a new life, and also resumed attending church. This is the friend that I almost gave up on witnessing to years ago. Your books have been a blessing, and their deeper knowledge & understanding has been helping me in witnessing.

Prayers & blessings-Shirley

About 15 years ago I had about 6 months to live. Being a Christian since I was 19, I believed in healing and miracles. I chanted my scriptures, prayed my prayers and went through every healing line available and yet got sicker. I knew the Lord had told me I would be healed- finally I gave up- I told the Lord I obviously knew how to die but didn't know how to live!

Shortly after someone sent me your first book- and so I began- I realized I couldn't RECEIVE His healing because there wasn't any room in my life. I began to loose those things that were not of God and bind myself to those things that were and walked in peace, joy and an intimate relationship that I have never experienced before. Since that time- I have taught women, children and even my own children - I have used your training wheel prayers for every thing in our lives. Has it been an easy life- NO- but it has been an exciting one- always on the watch for my soul trying to rule instead of God.

Each new event whether good or what we would call bad has become a new way to understand how to walk with more power, more love, forgiveness, and surrender. We are called, chosen and faithful to walk in what Jesus has designed for the Church- His bride- we are being prepared for the last revival about to come- how could I be of His service and business if I don't make room?- Thank you for your faithful word- we now teach it to the homeless that we work with every weekend- I have presented it to the children from the projects- no matter where you are from- whatever the background these will apply to your life if you want to move with the Holy Spirit - We will be praying for a quick recovery- total healing- total restoration knowing that God has a plan of victory for you too. He is making room for you- for the next move He is about to do in your life! Bless !

PRAYING FOR THE CHILDREN

Every Monday through Friday morning, I pray at the same time as nearly 70 LSM International Intercessors do around the world for children who are in situations of all forms of abuse, hunger, sickness, poverty, and even child slavery. Second Chronicles 7:14 tells us:

If My people who are called by My name will humble themselves, and pray and seek My face, and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin and heal their land (NKJV).

I cannot help but wonder if some of our wicked ways are that we do not pray enough for those who need help so badly. This speaks of the power of our prayers for our nations and those in them if we will humble ourselves, stop following our own wills and our own agendas, and pray with all the focus and determination that we can for what is right.

What might be considered one of our wicked ways as spoken of here? Could it not be that we have not cried out for others, especially the children of the world everywhere, every day! Please join with me and others in praying for the children of the world who desperately need us to agree that God's will shall be done in their lives and quickly.

Lord, I come to your with pain in my heart asking that you forgive me for not daily remembering and praying for those who cannot help themselves. I bind every child in the world to your will. I bind their minds to your mind, Jesus, and I bind their wounded and ragged emotions to the healing balance and comfort of the Holy Spirit. Please speak words of encouragement and hope to them. Please send help to rescue them quickly.

I loose the enemy's influence from all adults who are using and abusing so many children in the world today. Please heal them from whatever has driven them to such behaviors. People are not born knowing how to abuse; they learn from being abused themselves. Please break this evil cycle in their lives.

I loose, smash, crush, and destroy the enemy's works that are coming against these children. You have said if we would humble ourselves, pray, seek your face, and turn from our wicked ways, then you would heal our land. Please show us all that we need to do to work with you to see our lands and the children in them become safe and healed and filled with hope. Thank you, Father God. Amen

Always remember James 4:17 (NIV):
Anyone, then, who knows the good he ought to do and doesn't do it, sins.

This ministry believes the Scriptures are inspired of God, infallible, and fully authoritative for Christian faith and conduct. Jesus Christ, the Son of God, was born of a virgin, lived a sinless life on Earth, died on the cross in a substitutionary work of redemption for mankind, rose again and now sits at the right hand of the Father. Through Christ's shed blood and renewal of the Holy Ghost, justified by grace through faith, man becomes an heir of God with absolute hope of eternal life.

Liberty teaches Christians how to cause their unsundered souls (old natures) to surrender to the will and purposes of God. She also teaches Christians how to loose emotional baggage and toxic waste from their souls to create room within themselves to receive all God has promised to them for today. This allows believers to fulfill their destinies while walking in knowledge and power to bring glory and honor to God the Father! The message of binding and loosing and the Unsundered Soul teaches God's people how to pray with the Keys of the Kingdom (Matthew 16:19) to impact things on earth so they come into alignment with God's already established will in heaven. Liberty also teaches Christians how to pray purely without "want lists" and soulish instruction manuals for God (so He will know how best to answer their prayers!). Effective prayers with pure motives declare that God's will shall be done on Earth as He has so set it in heaven.
