Are You Really in the Right Place to Receive God’s Answers to Your Prayers?

I was rereading some of my original manuscripts recently when I ran across these passages in the original Producing the Promise:

In the early 80s I was just beginning to understand that when a scriptural promise (we feel should be ours) does not seem to materialize in our lives, it might be because we are not where we are supposed to be. Suppose a producer sent you a pass to a front-row seat at his Broadway hit in New York City. The pass was yours, with a full promise of a front-row seat to this sold-out, smashingly successful new play! Not believing you really had to go to New York to use the pass, you went to the more convenient and closer Grauman’s Egyptian Theatre in Hollywood instead. You kept going back to Grauman’s Egyptian Theatre year after year, but you were never able to get a front-row seat for anything with your pass. You were in the wrong place!

Hear this: The promise of that Broadway show pass was not broken!

Your choice of convenience positioned you in the wrong place to step into the manifestation of its promise. Because of not understanding this truth, many believers have learned to distrust what they think are God’s big “promises” that should be theirs. We have also allowed ourselves to be hindered in believing the promises of God because we have had other promises broken by people important to us.

We must never transfer our disappointment in humans to God! God is not a bigger human being or a larger authority figure in our lives. God is God, and He does not break His promises, nor will He ever trick or deceive us. He is for us, not against us—He wants us to succeed—He wants to answer right prayers.

People sometimes ask me to pray with them to bind a prophecy, a vision, or a word of revelation to them so they can move into the fulfillment of its promise. I never agree to this. A prophetic word/vision/dream will often be sorely misinterpreted if the soul of the individual contains any anger, unforgiveness, unresolved issues, unmet needs, or unhealed hurts. A promise in the Bible can be misunderstood when the person who is trying to appropriate it is not willing to change so they will grow and become mature enough to receive the answer.

When God’s presence was initially manifested to the Israelites in the desert, they moved when it moved, and they stayed when it stayed. They didn’t convene committee meetings, go to counselors, seek out prophetic ministries, or hire church consultants. Today, that cloud of His presence is not visible to the natural eye of mankind; we should be learning to recognize His presence in our spirits. How do you do this? You must slow down the pace of your life, shut out the distractions of the world, stay your thoughts upon Christ, review His promises in the Word, and praise Him while you pray.

Slowing down with Him is more productive and will get you further faster than if you keep speeding up to try to catch Him.

I have always been intrigued by the hidden picture-within-the-picture on the three-dimensional posters. You can be told what the hidden picture is in the poster and still not see it. I was very frustrated with my inability to
A passage from a book of Jack Hayford’s was sent to me the other day by e-mail. Here is an excerpt from it that jumped off the page at me:

I was particularly excited about the passage that says: “Jesus has conferred authority which, righteously exercised through prayer, intercession, and godly relationships, becomes the ‘keys’ of introducing God’s divine will (kingdom) into earthly situations.”

We all understand that it takes prayer and intercession to bring God’s will into earthly situations. But how many of us focus on the part of using the Keys when we are righteously exercising our godly relationships? We must be in our correct and godly place in our relationships to others to pray effective prayers. There are verses of Scripture that back this up. The Message has a very interesting interpretation of Matthew 5:21-24:

21 “You’re familiar with the command to the ancients, ‘Do not murder.’ 22 I’m telling you that anyone who is so much as angry with a brother or sister is guilty of murder. Carelessly call a brother ‘idiot!’ and you just might find yourself hauled into court. Thoughtlessly yell ‘stupid!’ at a sister and you are on the brink of hellfire. The simple moral fact is that words kill. 23 This is how I want you to conduct yourself in these matters. If you enter your place of worship and, about to make an offering, you suddenly remember a grudge a friend has against you, 24 abandon your offering, leave immediately, go to this friend and make things right. Then and only then, come back and work things out with God.”

The Living Bible says this about Matthew 5:21-25:

21 “Under the laws of Moses the rule was, ‘If you murder, you must die.’ 22 But I have added to that rule and tell you that if you are only angry, even in your own home, you are in danger of judgment! If you call your friend an idiot, you are in danger of being brought before the court. And if you curse him, you are in danger of the fires of hell. 23 So if you are standing before the altar in the Temple, offering a sacrifice to God, and suddenly remember that a friend has something against you, 24 leave your sacrifice there beside the altar and then come and offer your gift.”

The New International Version (NIV) says this about Matthew 5:21-24:

21 “You have heard that it was said to the people long ago, ‘Do not murder, and anyone who murders will be subject to judgment.’ 22 But I tell you that anyone who is angry with his brother will be subject to judgment. Again, anyone who says to his brother, ‘Raca,’ is answerable to the Sanhedrin. But anyone who says, ‘You fool!’ will be in danger of the fire of hell. 23 “Therefore, if you are offering your gift at the altar and there remember that your brother has something against you, 24 leave your gift there in front of the altar. First go and be reconciled to your brother; then come and offer your gift.”

That pretty well sums up how God views our attempts to discern such pictures at first, and so I tried harder and harder to find them. Someone said to me, “Relax and stop trying so hard; then you will be able to see it.” That did not make sense to the logic of my mind—my stubborn, do-it-the-way-I-think-best mind. But finally after a truly frustrating time of further trying to make the picture appear, I relaxed and let my eyes go slightly out of focus. The hidden picture literally “popped” into view. I couldn’t believe how I had missed it. Once I had seen it, even if I looked away, I could always return my gaze to the poster and bring the hidden picture right back into focus.

Many times it is like that with God. We try so hard to focus on what He seems to be hiding from us, or what just doesn’t make sense to our finite minds. We need to relax, quit trying to figure Him out, and let Him show us His way. We need to focus on Him, and let what seems so vexing and deliberately eluding us to go out of our focus. We need to be seeking Him first and foremost, and then all that we need will be shown to us (Matthew 6:33). I believe that once the Holy Ghost shows you God’s picture for your destiny, even if you are overwhelmed with life in the fast lane, if you relax and let the intense focus of your soul’s determination to pursue what it thinks best begin to soften, God’s picture will pop right into view. The most important thing here is when He shows you the picture of what He wants done—do it!

A passage from a book of Jack Hayford’s was sent to me the other day by e-mail. Here is an excerpt from it that jumped off the page at me:

The whole of the passage in Matthew 13:19 relates this practice to the ministry of the believer through the age-long era during which Christ shall be building His church. The gates (power, authorities, strategies) of hell will be encountered, and Jesus is delegating spiritual authority to His own, to quell or to dispatch the enterprises of the Adversary. The grounds of this delegated authority are established in the finished work of the Cross. The tense of the verbs reveal that what we may exercise of authority is based on something that has already been accomplished (see Matt. 28:18; Col. 2:14, 15; Rev. 1:18). (3) Hereby, the privileged-by-grace responsibility of the believer is magnified. Jesus has conferred authority which, righteously exercised through prayer, intercession, and godly relationships, become the “keys” of introducing God’s divine will (kingdom) into earthly situations. The Savior’s words made clear that the “heaven’s” side of these issues is settled and determined, but for the “earth” side of many matters to realize heaven’s intent, the human yet authoritative action of believers must be effective to appropriate God’s divine will.
pray, praise, or give Him an offering when in the wrong frame of mind in any of our relationships, expecting Him to respond favorably. God neither wants or needs your prayers, your praise, or your money if your heart is not right! He wants you to bring them to Him with a kind and loving heart; those are the gifts He longs for.

Many people have contacted me saying they have prayed for a son or daughter or friend or co-worker for months, and nothing changed in a bad situation. Their exact words to me were: “I’ve prayed the binding and loosing prayers for my husband for months and I’m ready to give up. He’s still being an idiot about everything.” Or, “My son makes me so mad. I’ve prayed the binding and loosing prayers for him for months and he still does all kinds of stupid things. I think he’s just plain hopeless.” “My daughter drives me crazy! She’s nothing but a lot of trouble to me!”

Then they ask me why the prayers aren’t working for them. Hello? It is because their hearts, minds, and hopes are not fully directed in love towards these relationships. They are not seeing those they are praying as God sees them; they are not expecting the very best for them and of them as God is drawn into their earthly situations. Pray this way:

I bind ________________ to God’s will, knowing THAT His will is for __________ and not against or in any kind of doubt about him/her. I bind ________________’s mind to the mind of Christ, knowing that His thoughts are focused on his/her freedom, his/her deliverance, and his/her future as a child of God. I bind ________________’s emotions to the healing comfort of the Holy Spirit, for I know that He wants to heal and comfort ________________’s confused and wounded feelings. I loose all the works of the enemy from him/her (1 John 3:8). I loose fear, angry feelings, and doubt from him/her. I loose any stronghold thinking from ________________, which has seemed like the only protection he/she feels he/she has had from other people’s opinions of him/her. I loose thoughts of guilt and unforgiveness from him/her. Please comfort, strengthen, and encourage ________________ and draw him/her closer to you. Thank you for doing this, Amen.

The point I am trying to express is that many of our prayers are not answered yet because we are not in the right place to see the answer. Many of our prayers are not bringing the answers we hope for because our own hearts are not right toward the people we are praying for or for others we have relationships with. Many of our prayers are not answered because we are not seeing our relationships as God wants them; we are stubbornly insisting that these relationships should be as we expect them to be instead.

Often God must take time to move everyone into the right positions to fulfill our right prayers for someone or a situation. That exercises our faith and our patience. But, don’t be a road block in the process! Pray the binding and loosing prayers for yourself as much or more as you are praying for someone else. Pray like this:

Father, forgive me. I haven’t really thought about whether or not I might fit in your idea of truly right relationships with others—I have not questioned if my prayers for others are in line with the way you wish instead of the way I want them to come out—I have been irritated because you didn’t fix everyone immediately, when perhaps you wanted to fix me instead.

Forgive me for my self-focus and my selfishness. I am sorry. I bind myself to your will and ask you to show me where I need to change. I bind my mind to the mind of Christ and loose self-centered thoughts I have had about all my prayers. I bind my emotions to the control, balance, and comfort of the Holy Spirit. I want to show more unselfish and humble love to others.

I loose the works of the enemy from myself (1 John 3:8), and I loose stronghold thinking from myself. I will not try to rationalize or justify my self-centered thoughts about others and the outcome of my prayers for them. It would be better if I did not pray at all, rather than pray wrong prayers for them.

Thank you, Lord. Amen.

Testimonies
Dear Liberty, I am writing to thank you for praying for me and calling me on the phone. I felt so stuck. After I spoke with you I was able to get my drivers’ license the next day. I was so happy. I went to the beach with my children and I was standing on the beach with my back to the ocean when a huge wave hit me and took my glasses into the ocean. I have continued to pray and God provided someone to lend me the money for new glasses.

I do keep experiencing obstacles, but I just keep praying. I was outside praying and worshiping God and thanking Him for His provision in a variety of ways. When I checked the mail, I had received a letter from my old job saying that I had to contact them about what to do with my retirement. Well, I didn’t know I had retirement or that I had to take it out of that company. The money, of course, is a blessing. I can now pay to get my nursing license in California and my son’s infected, abscessed teeth, requiring immediate dental care, can now be taken care of.

Again, thank you for your prayer and especially your willingness to speak with me in person. I have been so desperate as well as angry and hurt due to feeling abandoned by the few people God had put in my life. Thank you. AA

I am sending you a quick note to thank you for your books and DVDs. I found out about you through a daily online prayer I receive from Germaine Copeland. One day she mentioned you and gave a quote. The Lord spoke to me and told me to get the book. I looked up Shattering Your Strongholds. Immediately I ordered a used copy, devoured it, got on your website, ordered all your DVDs. Oh, Liberty, if I’d only known! I am sure you’ve heard that before!

I am praying the binding and loosing prayers for myself, and for my family. The Lord had given me the scripture, Matthew 16:19, about three years ago. I have a son I’ve prayed for, for 20 years, for deliverance from alcohol and drug addictions. I prayed and prayed, binding and loosing in the traditional way of understanding that scripture.

Since earlier this month I have been binding and loosing with your prayer message. I have seen two major things happen already that I believe are a direct result of the prayers. Things are very serious with my son now, but I see hope! I, of course, am praying for myself, and see the hand of God working on me.

I am a director of the single adults in my church. I want to be able to use this to help them. I am about to begin the book, Breaking the Power. Just wanted you to know that in a few weeks’ time, I can say I believe it is working. God is so good! He directs our paths, and He has brought me to your work; I am expecting great things!
Love to you, I pray you are doing well. May God bless you richly. CW in TX

I greet you in the powerful name of Jesus. Approximately six months ago I was introduced to your book from an avid fan. I read Shattering Your Strongholds, and it was truly an eye opener and a blessing to me. Currently I’m reading the powerful Breaking the Power II. Again, what an eye opener! It causes me to examine myself, and seek more of God.

You have answered so many questions that I have had for years with such detail; it’s almost like you know exactly what I needed to understand. It’s hard to put the book down. I pray that God will continue to give you the revelation in your writings so that you can continue to help others. You may add my name to your list of avid readers.

Evangelist DRS

I hope all is well with you. I wanted to write to give you an update and thank you again for every seed of encouragement through my year and seven-month journey as a Life Group leader and through the teaching of your books since 1998.

I’ve been in ministry since 2001 and for various reasons the Lord had me to lay it down for a season in 2007 to take care of my granddaughter...during that time I sat for 2 years under my Pastor and allowed the Word and Worship to restore and heal me of some things I had to walk through and endure. During that time I reread and studied your Shattering Your Strongholds and Breaking the Power books again and became a Life Group Leader last year teaching some precious ladies.

I thank God for those seasons of drawing closer to Him in order to become a fruit bearer for His Kingdom in a fresh new way. God has called me back into full time ministry. This morning I was reading your Preface in the Beyond Shattered Strongholds book, paragraph 3, where you talked about how your ultimate goal was to cause me and others to go forward into our destinies influencing generations for the Kingdom on a larger scale.

I can humbly say God has been faithful to me. Since I finished the Life Group Class He has opened doors for me to do just that...it’s my pleasure to tell you and give all Glory and Honor to God that your seeds are bearing fruit through and in me that will remain. Liberty Mission accomplished! If I never get to see you here on earth, when we get to heaven we will continue to rejoice.

Sylvia

I just wanted to let you know that we received the package safely here in South Africa, and thank you once again for the gifts you have given the church! It may interest you to know that a team from Zimbabwe will be joining our church for a while to learn the principles of loosing and binding.

God bless, Wendy

Questions and Answers

Rev. Savard: I was just introduced to your stronghold teaching during the month of August. I’ve been viewing the DVDs and studying the books. It’s making a dramatic difference in my life. I came to the Lord at the age of 6 and have always been active in church. I’ve never heard teaching like this! It’s freeing me little by little, layer by layer.

I would like to ask for prayer regarding what I believe is a soul tie I still have with a former boyfriend (T-----) of many years ago (I’m still single, by the way). I entered into an unhealthy relationship with him when I was just 21, but broke up with him after a few short months because my Christian parents were not happy about the relationship. I didn’t think there was still any desire for him until I started reading your books, but I now realize that I have buried a lot of stuff for many years (I’m now 51). The Lord spoke the word "strongholds" to me a short time before I came across your teaching. Being the Librarian that I am, I immediately started looking for a good Christian book on the topic. I searched Amazon and felt a quickening when I saw Shattering Your Strongholds. I’m now reading your additional books and this is all opening up a whole new world to me. This is the answer I’ve been looking for!

I’ve been taught the typical binding and losing stuff we get in church, but it doesn’t work! Thank you for listening to the Lord! KS

Dear KS: Thanks for the good words and I’m thrilled you are finding answers in my books. Let me know how you are doing if you get any confusion or discouragement. You are not making your unsurrendered soul or your enemy happy; but, you are delighting God! Liberty

I have devoured the book Binding and Loosing For Beginners. I paper clipped each page with a prayer. My husband Bruce and I are saying them every day now. I have tried to read the Breaking The Power Book II, but I am having some strong resistance to doing it. I read one page over and over. It has been like hitting a brick wall. I decided to pray first and now I am getting through better. My unsurrendered soul has really been fighting me with this one. DP

DP: You are really having some resistance from your unsurrendered soul, aren’t you? Keep pressing on! It would be a very good idea to pray the prayer on Breaking the Power II’s page on page 61, Prayer for Breaking Soul Power. I’ve included it below. It should help a lot. Let me know. Liberty

Prayer for Breaking Soul Power

Bless the Lord, O my soul, with all that is within you. Bless His holy name! Soul, I bind you to your destiny as a fully integrated, divinely created part of God’s purposes for my life. I loose the stronghold thinking, wrong beliefs, bad attitudes, wrong patterns of thinking, self-centeredness, and layers you have embraced to try to effect control of my life.

I loose all thoughts of denial, deception, and discouragement from you, soul. I loose the word curses you have believed to be true. I loose the power and effects of the wrong agreements you’ve made and the soul ties you have accepted. I loose the effects of your generational-bondage thinking that has come from close association with unsurrendered human souls in my family. Jesus Christ has given me a new family heritage that sets me free from all generational-bondage thinking. I bind myself to the liberty that Christ has extended to me through this new covenant relationship, new family heritage, and new bloodline that are now mine. I choose to just enjoy my natural family members.

You, soul, were created by God to translate the revelations and manifest the workings of the Holy Spirit to the world—not to run my life. You have not yet begun to imagine the things that God has in store for you when you surrender to His will and purposes as a vehicle of divine expression. Through thoughts and words of life expressed out of my renewed mind, through supernatural peace and joy out of my renewed emotions, through a righteous and godly courage and boldness out of my renewed will, you are going to bring understanding to many!

Mind, once you turned in circles like a rat caught in a maze, constantly going over and over the negative thoughts and fears about decisions you felt trapped into making. Nightmares prevented my sleep because of your thoughts of confusion and hopelessness as you kept recycling the unresolved issues you have been trying to bury. No more! I bind you, mind, to the will and purposes of God.

Mind, you will recognize that the binding and loosing prayers have brought divine interventions to the problems you knew you could never solve. God is now moving His wisdom and revelation into and through you. You are being brought into alignment with Him to be filled with understanding and able to teach others as spoken of by the prophet Daniel. Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits.

Emotions, forget not how you once reeled between laughter and tears, boldness and fear, hope and despair, affection and anger. You frightened people away from me with tears of neediness or outbursts of rage; then you fed fuel to my feelings of rejection and loneliness within. Now you are learning to respond to the Holy Spirit’s lifting power when old, negative feelings try to ascend. I bind you, emotions, to God’s will for my life. You will fulfill your unique purposes and ability to project God’s peace and joy and hope to those who do not understand the promises of His Spirit. Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits.

Will, forget not the causes and battles you have engaged, always rigidly implacable and unrelenting in your stands. Unrepentant, unbending, unrelenting, and unwilling to work with others’ ideas, you alienated many. You caused much grief with your stubbornness, resistance, and rebellion to God’s ways. But now, I bind you to the will of the Father. You will learn how to be strong, yet flexible; to be right, yet compassionate; to be bold, yet gentle; and to be courageous, yet concerned for others. Only the Holy Spirit can perfectly balance each side of these strengths in me.

Will, you shall show forth His courage, His boldness, and His fearlessness as you give me the backbone and the assurance to stand in the face of danger and enemy attack, always knowing that He is with me. You shall come into alignment with His divine order for my destiny. Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits.

Lord, I lose every wrong agreement from my soul. I cut asunder all soulish ties that my unsurrendered soul has sought, accepted, and expected to derive power from. I loose the wrong desires and motives that my unsurrendered soul has carefully protected and used to bring others into agreement with its deceptions. Soul, you will no longer derive power and ungodly satisfaction from soulish ties with another human being.

You will come into alignment with God’s power and will. I loose the layers you’ve laid down over the deepest, darkest chambers within yourself. I loose your layers of self-control, self-denial, self-protectiveness, self-defense, and self-centeredness that you have piled over my vulnerabilities that are so needful of God’s grace. I lose the lies and the soulish guilt you have used to bring torment to me over things that were not my fault. I lose the deceptions you have hammered me with and used to cause me to cave in to your control.

Lord, only you can fix the hidden areas of need, hurt, and unresolved issues in my unsurrendered soul. I bind my soul to you, Father, asking that your truth will always be the plumb line for my life. I want your truth to be the straight edge of everything I think and do, my guiding light, and the backbone of my soul. Bless the Lord, O my soul, with all that is within you. Forget not His benefits. Remember what He has done for you! In Jesus’ Name, Amen

Prayer Requests

Liberty: I don’t think God gave me a person like D---, but he has been in the picture for 7 1/2 years, although I think I got rid of him now. When I started getting suicidal compulsions, I knew it was the devil working through him. No wonder his wife killed herself by crashing into a mountain. There were witnesses to the accident who said that’s what she did. His then 10-year-old son was also killed. The then 9-year-old one lived.

The way I got involved with him was I was trying to help him through all that and then after about a year, he told me he was falling in love with me. I realized recently I have deep soul ties with him and that’s what I keep praying off now. It’s just too bad I wasted all those years on someone the devil would use like that in my life. It’s disgusting. What a waste. And now I don’t ever want to be in another relationship because it has been too hard for too long. I don’t know what God’s plan is for me and frankly I’m too beat up to care right now, but maybe someday I will get over all this. It doesn’t feel like it right now, though.

All I see is wasted time and nothing to show for it. I feel so used. Thanks so much for the prayers. TT

Dear TT: You still have my prayers. I want to say something to you that you may resent, and I don’t mean it to cause that. But you were used because you were usable!

You must press hard into releasing your safeguards (stronghold thinking) protecting your unmet needs and your unhealed hurts and your unresolved issues that keep you from being more surrendered to God’s directing and guiding and loving you. There are people who easily prey on needy people who have these unhealed areas in their soul. Getting them healed is vital for your emotional protection against such people. Praying binding and loosing prayers will help you to surrender so God can heal you. I don’t know if you have read many of my books or are praying many of the prayers, but using them will get you back on track and moving forward with God’s plans for you.

Stay in touch. Liberty

LSM International Intercessors – Phase 7

The original LSM Phase 1 International Prayer Intercessors began either near the end of 2007 or early in 2008. We began with just four Intercessors. By 2009, we grew to more than 130 Intercessors. Every year (a couple were every other year) I have the Intercessors re-commit to praying regularly for the subjects on our Prayer List.

In late 2007 or early 2008, I had a vision that birthed this group of Intercessors. While praying with two other LSM intercessors one morning, I saw what appeared to be a computer-generated graphic of four people in a circle praying. They appeared to be holding hands, but each pair of joined hands was covered with a ball of light. I interpreted this as power connections in the joining together of the hands and the prayers. Linda Cady felt the fourth person was Jesus. I was intrigued by the fact that the “vision” appeared to be a computer-generated picture. Then it hit me! This prayer unity and power could be connected through e-mails and computers around the world! Yahoo! Out of that belief, the LSM International Intercessors were born.

At this most critical time in history, we have nearly 35 guaranteed-active prayer warriors (recommitted in August 2013) actively part of our mission! The past year has been a difficult challenge to me to get out new prayer lists every two weeks. But I pray over the submitted needs when they come in, regardless of whether they are going right out on the official list or not. I am feeling somewhat stronger and hope to be more regular in sending out these individual needs as well as the reminders of the needs of those in the tragedies around the world and the volatile world situations.

If you would like to be on the LSM International Intercessors Team, Phase 7 - (including prayer warriors in Africa, Australia, Grenada, and Jamaica, to name a few - and a new team member today from New Zealand)

PRAYING FOR THE CHILDREN

The LSM International Intercessors, Phase 7, around the world pray for children who are in situations of all forms of abuse, hunger, sickness, poverty, and child slavery. I pray that angels, authorities, and strong adults can give help to them at the right time it is needed. Second Chronicles 7:14 tells us:

If My people who are called by My name will humble themselves, and pray and seek My face, and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin and heal their land (NKJV).

I cannot help but wonder if some of our wicked ways are that we do not pray enough for those who need help so badly, those who are not in a position to help themselves. This speaks of the power of our prayers for our nations and those in them if we will humble ourselves, stop following our own wills and our own agendas, and pray with all the focus and determination that we can for what is right.

What might be considered another one of our wicked ways as spoken of here? Could it not be that we have not cried out for others, especially the children of the world everywhere, every day! Please join with me and others committed to praying for the children of the world who desperately need us to agree that God’s will shall be done in their lives and quickly.

Lord, I come to you with pain in my heart asking that you forgive me for not daily remembering and praying for those who cannot help themselves. I bind every child in the world to your will. I bind their minds to your mind, Jesus, and I bind their wounded and ragged emotions to the healing balance and comfort of the Holy Spirit. Please speak words of strength, encouragement, and hope to them. Please send help to rescue them quickly.

I loose the enemy’s influence from all adults who are using and abusing so many children in the world today. Please heal the abusers from whatever has driven them to such behaviors. People are not born knowing how to abuse; they learn from being abused themselves. Please break this evil cycle in their lives.

I loose, smash, crush, and destroy the enemy’s works that are coming against these children. You have said that if we would humble ourselves, pray, seek your face, and turn from our wicked ways, then you would heal our land. Please show us all that we need to do to work with you to see our lands and the children in them become safe and healed and filled with hope. Thank you, Father God. Amen

Always remember James 4:17 (NIV):
Anyone, then, who knows the good he ought to do and doesn’t do it, sins.
Who and What is LIBERTY SAVARD MINISTRIES?

This ministry believes the Scriptures are inspired of God, infallible, and fully authoritative for Christian faith and conduct. Jesus Christ, the Son of God, was born of a virgin, lived a sinless life on Earth, died on the cross in a substitutionary work of redemption for mankind, rose again and now sits at the right hand of the Father. Through Christ’s shed blood and renewal of the Holy Ghost, justified by grace through faith, man becomes an heir of God with absolute hope of eternal life.

Liberty teaches Christians how to cause their unsurrendered souls (old natures) to surrender to the will and purposes of God. She also teaches Christians how to loose emotional baggage and toxic waste from their souls to create room within themselves to receive all God has promised to them for today. This allows believers to fulfill their destinies while walking in knowledge and power to bring glory and honor to God the Father! The message of binding and loosing and the unsurrendered soul teaches God’s people how to pray with the Keys of the Kingdom (Matthew 16:19) to impact things on earth so they come into alignment with God’s already established will in heaven. Liberty teaches Christians how to pray purely without “want lists” and soulish instruction manuals for God (so He will know how best to answer their prayers!). Effective prayers always have pure motives, never soulish motives. Binding and loosing Keys of the Kingdom can always expose hidden motives in a believer’s soul.
